CAIRO, Nov. 2 — United States [illegible] bombers have carried out a destructive attack on the Axis air base at Maleme in Crete, American headquarters announced today. A communique said fires were started and explosions were noted in the target area.

Final Guns Sounded In Local, State Campaigns

Fifty Per Cent Turnout of Voters Forecast in Tuesday Voting; Polls To Be Opened at 6:30 A. M.

Marion county and Ohio will join the nation in going to the polls tomorrow—but somewhere near a 50 per cent turnout is all that is expected.

In the county, a vote of 12,000 to 13,000 is forecast, a little more than half the vote of two years ago.

Ohio election officials likewise forecast a light vote. A governor, 23 congressmen and other officials will be named.

Nationally, 30,000,000 persons are expected to cast ballots in a light election. G. O. P. observers today declared they will capture seven more senate seats and substantial gains in the house.

Lightest Election In Years Foreseen in Ohio

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2—Ohio voters—probably in fewest numbers in a score of years—ballot tomorrow for governor, 23 congressmen, four minor state offices, three supreme court judges, representatives in general assembly, a state constitutional amendment, 361 local tax levies, 30 local option proposals and 20 bond issues.

Chief interest, of course, centered in the race for governor between Republican Gov. Bricker, seeking a third term, and former Congressman John McSweeney of Wooster, Democrat.

While the candidates added the finishing touches to their campaigns today, rival party headquarters confidently predicted victory.

Don C. Power, Republican campaign chairman, declared Bricker would win by at least 250,000 votes, perhaps more and Darrell Jones, Democratic state chairman, said McSweeney would command a 100,000 majority.

Final Talk Tonight

Bricker returned to Columbus after a week end in Cleveland to deliver his final address over a state wide radio hookup tonight. McSweeney attended a Democratic rally in Canton today.

KADENS ON TRIAL IN CHICAGO TODAY

Faces Court on Charge of Robbery.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2—Irwin Kadens, 33-year-old army deserter and "three state crime wave" was called to trial in criminal court today on a charge of robbery, but the defendant believed the law was wasting its time because it "could give me the death penalty for kidnaping under the Lindbergh law." His confessed field of operations included Ohio.

Kadens, who also faces a charge of rape and two other robbery charges, told reporters "it will cost the taxpayers $60,000 to conduct the case against me, and then they are just wasting their time. I shouldn't be tried for little things—like robberies and rapes—when they could give me the death penalty for kidnaping under the Lindbergh law, or for deserting the army during wartime."

The robbery charge is for his attempted holdup of a West Side currency exchange Oct. 19 which ended a spectacular criminal career that started when he deserted the army at Camp Grant, Ill., July 14. Police said he admitted between 50 and 75 robberies, a kidnaping, two rapes, and two attempts at rapes—most of them in Chicago.

He told reporters "I still think the army is a great place for a [illegible]. It gives him good exercise, and a chance to serve his country. I never disgraced my uniform by wearing it when committing a crime."

While at the height of his crime wave Kadens engaged in an exchange of shots with a Crawford county deputy sheriff last September.

Three Judges In Conference Today

The three common pleas judges who sat at the hearing on a demurrer filed by J. Wilbur Jacoby, attorney facing disciplinary action, returned this morning for a conference.

After the hearing on Sept. 21 the three, Judges Edmond H. Savord of Sandusky, Fred H. Wolf of Wauseon and Marion B. Owen of Urbana, took copies of all papers in the proceedings for close study before handing down an opinion.

The conference today was being held in the common pleas court judge's office. The judges this morning had no statement to make as to what action might result from the meeting.

Mr. Jacoby filed the demurrer to a charge filed by a Marion County Bar association committee appointed by Judge Hector S. Young. The charge involved his conviction by a federal grand jury in the Forest Glen cemetery case.

Quiet Campaign Ends in County

Final arrangements to handle Marion county's vote in Tuesday's election were completed today while a comparatively dull campaign drew to a close.

Except for final newspaper advertisements, candidates generally rested their campaign efforts, convinced that not many votes could be influenced one way or the other after the week-end.

In Marion county, interest centered around the Eighth district congressional campaign between Cong. F. C. Smith, Republican, and Brooks Fletcher, Democrat.

The only campaign meeting of any size scheduled locally tonight has been arranged by the Young Republican club at party headquarters with Dale Stump of Columbus as the speaker.

Betting on district and local election contests has been unusually light. Only posted bets or offers of wagers at one place in Marion were on the congress and commissioner races.

Vote Estimate Low

Election officials predicted little more than half of the county's voters will go to the polls tomorrow. They placed Tuesday's probable turnout around 12,000 to 13,000, commenting that two years ago the county's vote was between 21,000 and 22,000.

Three hundred and forty-nine absent voters' ballots have been cast, a comparatively small number, election officials said. Nearly twice as many were voted in 1938. Soldiers' ballots contributed some to the total this year, but on the other hand the general disappearance of vacation trips and the general tendency of people to stay at home in view of curtailed transportation had a tendency to keep the number of absent voters' ballots down, it was pointed out.

Polls to Open at 6:30

Tomorrow morning 330 precinct workers, most of them women, will go to the 55 voting places in Marion county at 6 o'clock and get ready to open the polls at 6:30. The polls will be open until 6:30 tomorrow night.

A few telephone reports from scattered precincts are expected to bring in some partial returns by around 8 o'clock, but it is expected to be considerably later in the night before sufficient returns are received to forecast the outcome of any close contests.

Election officials issued an appeal for all non-shop voters to cast their ballots during the early part of the day if possible to clear the way for factory workers' votes late in the day.

Marion Co. School Shortens Term As Wartime Measure

A wartime plan whereby Pleasant Township school will be dismissed two weeks ahead of schedule next spring, right at the time corn planting will start on the farms in the township, will be inaugurated this week. It is the first such measure announced by Marion county schools.

Evolved by Supt. E. E. Banning and unanimously approved by the board of education, the plan calls for school sessions one Saturday a month for the next five months and elimination of the usual week's vacation at Christmas.

The Saturday sessions will be the first week of every month, except January, when school will be conducted the second Saturday because of the New Year's holiday.

At Christmas time school will be dismissed on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 24, and will convene on Monday morning, Dec. 28.

The plan is designed to make some 350 boys and girls available for farm work at the time when additional farm labor will be necessary to get out the crops, Superintendent Banning said.

DIES OF INJURIES

750 TAKE PART IN PILGRIMAGE

State Head of American Legion Speaks at Boy Scout Tribute to Harding.

An estimated 750 persons, including approximately 375 Boy and Girl Scouts, took part yesterday in the eleventh annual Harding pilgrimage.

While weather conditions were ideal, the pilgrimage crowd was only a fraction of its usual size. Because of tire shortage and impending war-time rationing programs, officials in charge of arrangements for the pilgrimage made no effort to bring out-of-town bands and large scouting groups here this year.

Highlight of the pilgrimage program, which included impressive wreath-laying ceremonies, was an address by Martin V. Coffey, commander of the Ohio Department of the American Legion. Mr. Coffey is sales manager for the Philip Carey Manufacturing Co. of Middletown.

Most from Area

Absent for the first time in many years was the usual representation from the Toledo and Put-Han-Sen Boy Scout areas. Each year heretofore the Toledo area has been representd by a group of 100 or more scouts and the Put-Han-Sen area, comprising Putnam, Hancock and Seneca counties, usually sent between 125 and 150 scouts. Besides two eagle scouts from Cincinnati, a group of scouts from Newark was the only scouting organization outside the Harding area to participate in this year's event.

Towns in the Harding area to send scouts were Mt. Gilead, Bucyrus, LaRue, Morral, Nevada and Sycamore. Virtually all of the Marion scouts also participated, R. M. Miller, Harding area scout commissioner, said today.

A parade from Central Junior high school to the memorial attracted several thousand persons. Many of those watching the parade followed it for the memorial services.

Parade Officials

Col. T. E. Andrews served as parade marshal. He was assisted by J. A. Dripps, C. H. Howard, J.

Star Arranges for News Service Election Night

All who are interested in getting reports of Tuesday's election results at the earliest possible moment are invited to make use of The Star's special election night news service.

The public is invited either to telephone The Star for reports at any time Tuesday night or to hear bulletins and news accounts read in The Star auditorium.

In the news room workers will be on hand to compile precinct returns as they are received from the city and county and The Associated Press wire will bring in accounts of results in the state and nation.

Information about the trend of any or all election contests may be obtained by dialing 2314, The Star's telephone number. A corps of extra phone operators will be ready to answer calls. However, they will not go on duty until 9 p. m., as returns from city and county precincts are not expected to start coming in before that time or possibly a little later. From then on the operators will be on the job to answer calls until the final precinct reports are in.

Reports will be read throughout the evening in the auditorium, where the doors will be opened to the public at 8:30. Tables will be placed at the front of the auditorium for the convenience of persons who wish to make vote tabulations.

REDS BATTLE TO STOP DRIVE IN CAUCASUS

Germans Threaten Anew in Advance Toward Southern Oil Fields.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Nov. 2 — The Red army fought fiercely throughout the night to defend the approaches to its vital military highway across the Caucasus mountains after a retreat in the Nalchik area yesterday, but the mid-day communique reported that the Germans had been thrown back in various parts of Stalingrad.

On the critical situation in the Nalchik area, the communique said only that "our troops fought heavy defensive engagements." Four enemy tanks, 12 troop trucks and five guns were reported smashed by Soviet artillery fire.

It was in the Nalchik area that the main German strength seemed to be gathering in the shadow of the Caucasus mountain crag. The action in Stalingrad apparently had dwindled to small engagements in scattered sectors.

During the night, the Russians moved aggressively against German positions in the scarred and blackened city and reported that they had captured several buildings.

More than 300 Germans were reported killed in the fighting northeast of Tuapse, Black sea naval port, but the trend of the fighting there was not indicated.

Nalchik, near which the Russians retreated again yesterday, is only 60 miles northwest of Ordzhonikidze, the northern terminus of the mountain military highway which leads to Tiflis and the rich oil properties behind the mountains. However, there are many snowy crags and strong Soviet mountain positions between the Germans and this prize. The Russians gave no hint of the extent of their retreat, saying only that "the Germans succeeded in driving a wedge into our positions" and "after protracted fighting our unit retreated to new positions."

Near Novorossisk naval station now in German hands, Soviet marine scouts carried out a raid behind the German lines killing about 100 of the enemy and destroying six blockhouses and ammunition supply dumps, the communique reported.

Russian planes were thrown into the fighting in the Caucasus and bombers attacked columns of reserves and supplies moving toward the front.

Edison Gives Jail To Scrap Drive As Crime Slumps

Special to The Star

EDISON, Nov. 2—There isn't much crime in Edison, O., so the village council has voted to contribute the village jail to the scrap heap.

Dismantling of the jail, a steel cell in the township hall, is expected to get under way this week, Mayor Paul L. Hiskey said this morning. It is estimated there are two tons of vital metal in the cell.

The jail has had no occupants in the last eight years, except transients who stayed there overnight, the mayor said.

The Edison school pupils collected approximately 30 tons of scrap during the nationwide drive, one of the largest contributions among the Morrow county schools, according to Mr. Hiskey.

U.S. Submarines Sink 7 Jap Ships in Pacific

Three Others, Including Converted Aircraft Carrier, Damaged in Recent Actions; Enemy Fleet Retires from Guadalcanal.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—The sinking of seven enemy ships and the damaging of three others including a converted aircraft carrier set afire, by American submarines during recent operations in the Pacific were announced today by the navy.

A communique reported that American submarines operating in the western and south Pacific had sunk one large passenger-cargo ship, two large tankers, two medium-sized and two small cargo ships, damaged and set afire one converted carrier, and damaged one destroyer, and a medium-sized tanker.

These operations brought the total of enemy ships reported sunk or damaged by submarines in the Pacific since the outbreak of war to 131 of which 86 were sunk, 20 probably sunk and 27 damaged.

The text of the communique, number 178:

"Far East

"1. U. S. submarines have reported the following results of operations against the enemy in far eastern waters:

"(A) Two large tankers sunk.

"(B) One large passenger cargo ship sunk.

"(C) Two medium-sized cargo ships sunk.

"(D) Two small cargo ships sunk.

"(E) One converted carrier damaged and set on fire.

"(F) One destroyer damaged.

"(G) One medium-sized tanker damaged.

"These actions have not been announced in any previous navy department communique."

The last previous navy report on submarine action against the Japanese in the Pacific, communique number 151 on October 14, reported the sinking of five Japanese ships, including a heavy cruiser, plus one probably sunk and two damaged.

United States naval forces appeared to have the run of the waters around embattled Guadalcanal island as a result of the devastating battle of Oct. 26 in which the Japanese now are reported officially to have suffered damage to seven big ships.

In what the navy described as the first detailed report of the naval air battle east of the Stewart islands one week ago, the enemy also was reported to have lost between 100 and 150 planes.

Japanese warships listed as damaged included two aircraft carriers, two battleships and three cruisers. This added one battleship and two heavy cruisers to the score previously reported.

Announced United States losses in the engagement were one carrier, as yet unidentified, and the destroyer Porter, with other ships reporting lesser damage.

Jap Fleet Retires

As the battered Japanese armada retired from the scene, American warships swept into the area from which enemy vessels had bombarded the defenders of Guadalcanal and let go with a two hour cannonading of Japanese positions on the island. Several buildings and boats and some artillery were destroyed by the shelling which occurred last Friday.

Seven Grumman "Wildcats" paid another call on the enemy base at Rekata bay, northwest of Guadalcanal, shooting down three "Zero" float planes and two biplanes and sending a fuel dump up in smoke.

Dive bombers attacked enemy destroyers in the vicinity of the Russel islands, about 30 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, Thursday night and again Friday morning with inconclusive results. One bomber failed to return.

It appeared that U. S. navy fliers had dealt the enemy a severe pounding.

A detailed report reached Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of naval operations, only yesterday from Vice Admiral William Halsey, who recently took over command of that area.

Details of Action

In this report, the navy announced last night, the following damage to the enemy was detailed:

Four to six heavy bomb hits on an aircraft carrier of the Zui Kaku class.

Two medium bomb hits on another aircraft carrier of the same class.

Two heavy bomb hits on a battleship of the Kongo class.

One heavy bomb hit on a second battleship.

Five medium bomb hits on a cruiser of the Tikuma class (second class cruiser).

Torpedo and bomb hits on one heavy cruise, and two torpedo hits on another heavy cruiser.

A dispatch from Olen W. Clements, Associated Press correspondent in the South Pacific war zone, quoted an American pilot returning from the attack as saying the flight deck of one of the big new enemy carriers was completely smashed and she appeared to be sinking.

Minor Ground Action

Ashore on Guadalcanal, the navy reported "minor" ground operations Thursday during which U. S. soldiers and marines cap-

TO GIVE FINAL CHEST REPORT

Workers Center Effort on Reaching Campaign Goal Tonight.

A final appeal to put Marion county's United War Chest drive over the top at tonight's report meeting in the Masonic temple was issued at campaign headquarters this morning.

Along with the appeal was the prediction by J. E. Oliphant, Community Foundation president, that the $11,099.50 needed for victory in the drive would be raised if all canvassers would make their final calls today and report their pledges in time for tonight's meeting.

He especially urged rural workers to see that their reports are included in tonight's total.

Mr. Oliphant said that from preliminary reports coming into the war chest drive headquarters of work done over the week-end, there was every reason to believe the goal would be reached tonight. The goal is $104,361.74.

Those who attend the dinner will be given a first-hand account of the work of relief agencies in Africa.

The speaker will be Lt. Robert Mautz, Army attorney in Africa, now on a visit home. Lieutenant Mautz was attorney for Pan-American Airways, Africa, Ltd., before the line was taken over by the Army.

BLANKS READY FOR GASOLINE RATIONING

Dealers, Garagemen To Aid in Distribution.

Gasoline dealers and garagemen were asked today to go to the Marion county rationing office at 193 East Center street and get the application blanks which Marion city and county motorists must have before the basic gasoline registration Nov. 12-14.

Starting Wednesday, the general public is urged to get the application blanks and have them filled out, ready to present at the city and county schools when the registration starts.

So far 50 men and women have volunteered for the supplemental registration for those persons who believe they are entitled to more than the basic four gallons a week.

To complete the program at least 150 more are needed. The volunteers will be free to decide whether they wish to work on the afternoon shift, 12 noon to 5:30 p. m., or the night shift, 5:30 to 9.

The committee especially urged that residents in the county volunteer for the supplemental registration, since it is expected to involve hundreds of auto drivers outside Marion city.

The gasoline rationing committee, of which Robert F. Williams is chairman, was to meet today and set the date for the supplemental registration. The date was automatically set back with the change in dates for the basic registration.

PRESIDENT ASKS BROAD RULE OVER TRADE LAWS

ACTS TO SPEED PRODUCTION AS VICTORY GOAL

Proposes To Remove Restrictions Now Hampering Flow of Goods.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—President Roosevelt asked congress today to give him sweeping wartime power to suspend any law, particularly tariffs, found interfering with the "free movement of persons, property and information" into and out of the United States.

Asserting that speed and volume of war output have become more than ever in our history the "primary conditions of victory," Mr. Roosevelt said in a special message:

"To achieve an all out war production effort, we must implement and supplement the steps already taken by the congress and the President to eliminate those peace time restrictions which limit our ability to make the fullest and quickest use of the world's resources."

The President asked that he be empowered for the duration of the war to "suspend the operation of all or any such laws, in such a way as to meet new and perhaps unforeseen problems as they may arise, and on such terms as will enable the Chief Executive and government agencies to work out in detail parallel action in other countries."

Still Many Restrictions

Government agencies, Mr. Roosevelt said, had already removed many administrative restrictions on the movement of war goods, information and persons, but there remained "many legislative obstacles to that movement which impede and delay our war production effort."

The Chief Executive said these obstacles fell into two categories. One, he asserted, directly affected the movement in and out of the United States of materiel, information and persons needed for the war effort and included customs duties and the administrative supervision required by law affecting movement of persons and property at our borders and ports.

In the second category he placed laws imposing limitations on the procurement, acquisition or the use of non-American articles or the transportation of supplies in non-American bottoms.

To illustrate the second class of obstacles, Mr. Roosevelt mentioned "restrictions on the use, under construction differential subsidy contracts, of non-American materials in the construction of vessels under the merchant marine act of 1936."

Lists Other Restrictions

The President also listed restrictions on procurement of food or clothing not grown or produced in the United States, or the acquisition "for the public use, public building or public works of non-American articles; or the transportation by sea of navy supplies except in vessels of the United States."

The President said he already had exercised the power granted under the first war powers act to make emergency navy purchases abroad and to enter the materials free of duty.

"This has measurably assisted our war effort," he said, "but it only partially eliminates the obstacles prescribed by law which I have already mentioned."

"I therefore, recommend early enactment by the congress of legislation to the extent required for the effective prosecution of the war, the free movement of persons, property and information into and out of the United States," the President said, adding,

"I do not now recommend that the congress repeal or amend any of these peace time restrictive laws.

"It is my judgment that the problem can best be dealt with by giving to the President for the duration of the war, but no longer, the power on a selective and flexible basis to suspend the operation of all or any such laws, in such a way as to meet new and perhaps unforeseen problems as they may arise, and on such terms as will enable the Chief Executive and the government agencies to work out in detail parallel action in other countries."

Final Gallup Poll Count In New York State Gives Dewey a Substantial Lead

By GEORGE GALLUP
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2—The final gubernatorial survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion in New York state shows Thomas E. Dewey leading by a substantial margin in what is widely regarded as the nation's most important governorship election this year because of its 1944 presidential implications.

The survey, completed Sunday morning, gives Dewey 53 per cent of the three-party vote throughout the state, to 39 per cent for John J. Bennett, the Democratic candidate, and eight percent for Dean Alfange, the American Labor party candidate. This is the final of seven consecutive Institute polls on the campaign, all of which have shown Dewey in the lead.

The Communists and other minor parties will poll about two per cent of the total vote.

Rival Leaderships

The New York race is being singled out for special attention by political observers everywhere not only because of the Dewey-Willkie rivalry within the Republican party but also because of the Farley-Roosevelt feud in the Democratic party.

Bennett trails Dewey in the survey largely because Alfange draws his votes chiefly from the Democrats. The split in the Democratic vote thus created pulls Bennett's percentage in New York City far below the total that Democratic candidates for governor have enjoyed in the City for 20 years. Nevertheless, the poll indicates that Bennett will carry the city.

Institute results for the state and for the upstate area are as follows: New York City, Dewey [illegible] per cent, Bennett 45, Alfange [illegible]. Upstate, Dewey 65 per cent, Bennett 33, Alfange 2.

Analysis of Surveys

Institute studies made incidental to sampling of congressional election sentiment indicate that the Republicans will [illegible] great satisfaction this year in the outcome of gubernatorial [illegible] across the country. The GOP will elect governors in most of the populous states outside the south where there are state [illegible] this year.

In the congressional election the final Institute report yesterday showed little change in the present Democratic majority in the house of representatives, and estimated that the Democrats would poll 52 per cent of the total votes cast for the two major parties on congressional [illegible] throughout the country, while the Republicans would poll 48 per cent.

Estimated Division

This would give a division of the house estimated as follows: Democrats, between 250 and 276 seats, Republicans between 158 and 178 seats.

In 1940 the Democrats won 263

MURDER on the Campus

By JERRY BRONDFIELD

CHAPTER TWELVE
Susan Makes A Trip

TODD'S picture made Page One along with Phil Humphries that afternoon when the papers started to elaborate on the story.

POLICE QUIZ
GRID STAR

No clues had been uncovered as yet, nor had any apparent motive been established. Dr. Stephen Coulter, reached by reporters at home where he was confined with a cold, was shocked almost beyond expression. He announced that the loss was a personal one to him, as well as to the university and science in general.

Susan's father telephoned late that afternoon inquiring for details. Patiently she told him she knew nothing more than what he had been reading in the papers. She promised she would call him if anything developed. She hung up recalling that her father once had expressed a liking for Phil.

It was shortly after dinner when Sergeant Lake of the homicide bureau came to the Delta Sigma house. Mrs. Holmes, the house mother, ushered him into her office and called Susan.

He questioned her about the night before. Did she meet Todd Malone on Main street? Did he walk home with her? What time did he leave her? In what direction had he gone when he left her?

Personal Questions

She answered his questions perfunctorily, almost mechanically, but with a slight resentment. It seemed the questions were so sharply pointed with suspicion.

"You're wasting your time," she blurted. "Todd didn't have a thing to do with it. Why do you have to do this to him. He's already suffered one great personal blow and now this comes up."

"At a time like this we have to sidetrack personal feelings, Miss Drake," Lake said.

"Even at the risk of ruining a man's whole career — his very life?" she flashed.

"Even at that risk," he nodded. "You seem very concerned. You in love with him?" Lake suggested coolly.

"In love with—" She started to echo the question; it had hit her so abruptly she was unable to give him an instant answer. The idea itself was strange but it struck a funny chord within her.

"I'm not evading your question," she said finally, "but does that have anything to do with the case?"

"We never know." Then he cocked his head sideways at her. "Your father is a detective lieutenant upstate, isn't he?"

"Yes."

"Does he know you've been seeing Malone?"

She felt the hot flush that came over her face. "I think you're getting a little too personal, needlessly," she said.

"I'll be the judge," he told her curtly. "But skip it." He looked at his watch. "Keep us in mind if you hear anything. Never can tell what a detective's daughter might turn up," he grinned.

Disappeared!

Todd had skipped all his classes that day. He hadn't even returned to the fraternity house for lunch. He stopped at a drug store on the outer fringe of the campus and got a malted milk. Then he started walking.

By the time he heard the three o'clock chimes he had circled back to Main Street. For the first time, then, he remembered football practice.

On his way to the stadium he noticed several people snatch quick, almost embarrassed glances as he passed.

He didn't bother to identify familiar faces. He didn't want to say anything to anyone, not even hello. He passed the cluster of oak trees in the center of the campus and a squirrel at the base of one of them scurried up the branches as he approached.

In the distance, about a quarter of a mile away, Todd saw the stadium towers in the late afternoon sun. He stopped, looked at the squirrel and decided he wasn't going to practice. Not that day, nor tomorrow. And he didn't give a hang what happened when Vanderbilt came to town Saturday, for that matter.

He was sick of the whole thing. Right up to his neck. And if he never saw a football again it would make little difference. He didn't owe anybody anything, he reflected bitterly, he'd certainly given more than he'd received around here.

Susan heard the report on the radio that night. Todd Malone hadn't shown up for practice. He had returned to his fraternity house that afternoon about three and had left shortly afterwards.

The next day, Thursday, Todd was still missing. The sports writers fanned it up big. No one had seen him in two days. A mystery like that two days before a big intersectional game made dripping copy.

Detective headquarters called Susan and asked if she had any ideas of his whereabouts. She gave them a flat no. But in her economics class the next afternoon an idea came to her. It grew on her as she rushed home. Hurriedly she changed clothes and ran to Peggy Cannon's room.

"Give me your car keys, Peg," she said swiftly. "No questions, Peg . . . this is an emergency."

Peggy pointed to her dresser. "Sure. . . ."

Susan grabbed the keys and dashed downstairs and around to the rear of the house where Peg kept her car.

An hour later Susan parked near the state penitentiary in Centerville. She walked into the administration offices and introduced herself. "I'm Susan Drake. Possibly you know my father, Lieutenant Leo Drake. I'd like very much to see one of the prisoners—Duke Malone—for just a couple of minutes, even though it may be irregular at this time of day."

A deputy warden looked at her keenly. "Yes, I know your father. Visiting hours are over, though. I don't think—"

"Just five minutes," she implored. "It's so important."

"You're a friend of his?"

"I've never met him before—but that doesn't matter."

He looked at her closely again, silently filled out a slip and pressed a buzzer.

Auto Hits Mail Box and Rail Sign Post

John A. Wagner, 26, of 229 North Grand avenue escaped uninjured when his car left the highway and knocked down a mail box and railroad sign post about 5:30 a. m. yesterday at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing a quarter of a mile south of Marion, according to the state highway patrol.

Mr. Wagner, who was traveling north, told the patrolman who investigated that a car approaching from the opposite direction crowded him off the highway. Damage to his car was estimated at $75.

OHIO EX-GRID STAR CLAIMS BATTLE CRY

Lt. Forgy, Navy Chaplain, Inspired Pearl Harbor Slogan.

By The Associated Press

NEW CONCORD, O., Nov. 2—A former Muskingum college football star was accredited by the nation today with having inspired America's popular battle cry of World war II—"Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

Lieut. Howell Forgy, a navy chaplain, was [illegible] at Pearl Harbor over the week-end that he had uttered that now-famous phrase in pepping up sailors during the [illegible] of the surprise Japanese attack on the country's Pacific outpost last December.

Forgy, a [illegible]-conference tackle on Muskingum's unbeaten untied 1931 football team, said he used the words since then put into a song that has swept the nation—as he slapped the sailors on the back.

The 34-year-old chaplain from Haddonfield, N. J., attended Muskingum college for four years, graduating in 1932. His wife, the former Louise Morgan of Princeton, Ky., presented him with a son, Michael, three weeks ago. The chaplain has not seen the boy.

Mrs. Maurice Forgy, the chaplain's mother, admitted at Haddonfield that "It's a little confusing to find Howell on the front pages all of a sudden, but now that I think of it that phrase is just like Howe, isn't it, Ruth?" she asked his younger sister.

Ruth nodded and smiled. "He's so witty and full of puns," she explained.

But despite the popularity of the song, the chaplain's parents said they had not heard the melody until after receiving the news that their son had used the slogan.

A MESSAGE TO FARMERS
In His Last-Minute Ads Congressman Dr. Smith Misrepresents His Opponent and Everybody Knows It. And So Does He!

BROOKS FLETCHER

In his repeated statements, both privately and publicly, Brooks Fletcher has said:

"In wartime we should all work together in united effort to avoid unnecessary slowdowns, needless strikes and other work stoppages in industry, in transportation, in business and in everything else including slowdowns and bottlenecks in Congress."

Brooks Fletcher Believes the Farmers of This Eighth District Deserve U. S. Government "E" Awards for Efficiency in Production, Too!

The fine spirit of Americanism shown by the workmen and women of this District is proven by the fact that the U. S. Government has given several of the famous "E" Awards to industries in this District for [illegible] efficiency and amazing production made possible by Management and Workers, all of whom agree with Brooks Fletcher that unnecessary stoppages of work and in war production should be and can be prevented by continued mutual understanding, cooperation and team work.

FARMERS NEED A FRIEND IN CONGRESS WHO WILL STAY THERE AND WORK!

Farmers need a friend in Congress today as never before to help see to it that farmers have an equal chance with everybody else, get the same consideration all other groups get, have a floor put under prices so when the war is over, they will be able to meet any changed conditions and have prosperity!

Brooks Fletcher advocates that the Farmers must have an opportunity to be prosperous if the nation is to be prosperous, because if the farmers are not prosperous, nobody is prosperous.

Third of a Mile of Water Line Laid in 10 Hours

A group of workers for the Curro Construction Co. of Cleveland believe they established a new record of some kind when they recently laid 100 lengths of 18-foot sections of eight-inch cast iron pipe—altogether more than a third of a mile—in a 10-hour working shift to help speed the delivery of water to the Marion Engineer depot.

The project on which they are working will connect the depot with the water distribution system of the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

The workers estimate they twice handled 1,080 tons of earth in digging a five and one-half foot trench, laying the pipe and then backfilling. Karl Horn of Akron was the power shovel operator on the shift and Sam Pancelli of Cleveland was the foreman. The day's work shift involved the use of 500 pounds of mineral lead to pour the joints and 533 feet of braided jute to "yarn" the joints.

Farm Labor Supply 42 Per Cent of Normal

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2—Ohio's farm labor supply was only 42 per cent of normal and the demand was 103 per cent on Oct. 1 despite the highest wage rate paid since records were started in October, 1923, the Ohio crop reporting service disclosed.

Most critical labor shortages were reported in the southeastern district of the state with 36 per cent of normal supply, and in the north central region with 39 per cent. The most plentiful supply was 49 per cent in the east central region.

Ohio's daily wage rate with board, on Oct. 1 averaged $2.90 compared with $2.55 on July 1 and $2.25 on Oct. 1, 1941. Without board the average daily wages were $3.55 on Oct. 1, 1942, $3.10 on July 1, 1942 and $2.85 on Oct. 1, 1941.

THE Army Air Base chapel at Greenville, S. C., was the scene of the marriage of Miss Marjorie Ann Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Knapp of 297 Bradford street, to Lt. Edward Dalton Maner of Hillsboro, Tex., at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The bride's sisters, Mrs. Robert F. McCarty of Greenville, S. C., Miss Peggy Knapp and Miss Frances Knapp were her attendants and Lt. L. H. Pabst of Lincoln, Neb., served as best man for the bridegroom who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Maner of Hillsboro, Tex. Ushers were Lt. Robert F. McCarty, brother-in-law of the bride, Lt. S. R. Dana of Iowa and Lt. L. J. Peters of Fort Worth, Tex.

MRS. EDWARD D. MANER

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was costumed in a floor length gown of white tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice of Duchess lace and bracelet-length sleeves, accented with a sweetheart neckline. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held with a shirred halo trimmed in tiny seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a gold sweetheart locket and bracelet, a gift from the bridegroom, and for the traditional something old she carried a Battenberg lace handkerchief made by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. James A. Knapp and carried by the brides in the Knapp family, most recently by Mrs. McCarty, a bride of last July.

The attendants' gowns were of white tulle made on the same lines as that worn by the bride and they wore blue and gold flowers in their hair. Mrs. McCarty, who was her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Peggy Knapp, maid of honor, carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with blue ribbon, and Frances Knapp, who was junior bridesmaid, carried yellow daisies in a tiny basket tied with a blue bow. They wore the bride's gifts, which were strands of pearls.

Mrs. Knapp chose for her daughter's wedding a blue gown and wore a corsage of yellow roses and daisies.

Two baskets filled with white pompons and asters, greenery and tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra carried out an all green and white decorative theme in the chapel.

As the bridal party left the chapel, fellow officers of the bridegroom, standing at either side of the entrance, gave the snap salute which was returned by Lieutenant Maner.

Following the ceremony Lt. and Mrs. McCarty entertained with a reception for 75 guests at their home at 422 Crescent avenue. Later the bride and bridegroom left on a short wedding trip to Miami Beach, Fla. For her going away costume the bride wore a salute blue wool suit with trapunto trim and a matching hat and accessories. Pinned to her shoulder was the yellow throated orchid which centered her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will be at home at 10 Neiville place in Greenville.

Mrs. Maner was graduated from Harding High school and Office Training school in Columbus and has been employed as a secretary at the Curtiss-Wright plant in Columbus. Lt. Maner was a student in the University of Texas before entering army service. He is an instructor pilot at the Army Air Base at Greenville.

Recent Bride Is Honor Guest at Brunch, Shower

MRS. ROBERT GLOSSER of Bucyrus, Miss Lucille Brabson of Columbus, Mrs. Donald Gunder, Miss Muriel McMurray and Miss Charlotte Llewellyn were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower and brunch yesterday morning at Hotel Harding complimenting Mrs. Don Williamson, a recent bride.

Autumn leaves, gourds and Indian corn carried out a colorful decorative theme and completing the table centerpiece was a large pumpkin holding the fortunes of the honor guest, one of which directed her to her shower gifts.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Williamson who was Miss Dorothy Roberts before her marriage, Mrs. Richard J. Morgan, Mrs. John Peacock, Mrs. George A. Howser, Mrs. Jack Bray Jr., Miss Nellie Roberts and Miss Louise Guthery.

Personal Mention

Miss Maxine Sims of Magnetic Springs and William McKitrick of Marysville spent Sunday with Miss Sims' mother and sister, Mrs. Alma Sims and Miss Bette Sims of Florence street. Miss Sims, a senior at Magnetic Springs High school, was formerly a Marion resident.

• • •

Mrs. A. G. Brooks and son, Donald, of Chicago are visiting with Mrs. Brooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Wettemer of 929 Mt. Vernon avenue.

• • •

F. D. Bain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Bain of 182 Wallace street returned yesterday to his home in San Bernardino, Calif., after a 10-day visit with his parents.

Weddings

Howard Thorpe of 441 North Greenwood street is announcing the marriage of his daughter Edna Marie to Worley Carroll Spain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Spain of 256 West Pleasant street, yesterday afternoon.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Ackor at the parsonage in Richmond, Ind.

The bride chose for her wedding a beige tweed sport ensemble with matching accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow roses and baby mums.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Thorpe, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Sgt. Fisher Of Cardington Weds Wisconsin Nurse

The marriage of Miss Lulu Marie Dernmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Cuff of Oconto, Wis., and Sgt. Clarence E. Fisher, son of Mrs. J. H. Kreis of Cardington, was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kreis.

Rev. L. C. Florstedt of St. Paul Lutheran church in Cardington performed the double ring ceremony before an improvised window altar attractively decorated with ferns, clusters of bronze mums and two seven-branch candelabra. The arch was centered with a large silver bell. Miss Betty Bennett of Cardington, niece of the bridegroom, lighted the candles.

The bride wore a military brown suit with yellow and brown accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow rosebuds and tiny bronze pompons. Her only jewelry was a locket with the air corps insignia, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Ruth Haggard and Miss Dorothy Nowotny, both of West Allis, Wis., the bridesmaids, chose harmonizing ensembles and wore corsages of yellow rosebuds. Carl E. Fisher of Marion, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Cuff wore a soldier blue ensemble and a corsage of tiny white pompons and Mrs. Kreis was in an emerald green gown and wore a corsage of bronze and yellow mums.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Harry Curl of Cardington played "Neopolitan Nights," "Sunrise and You" and "One Fleeting Hour." Mrs. Curl and Mrs. W. H. Kreis sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "I Love You Truly," and "Hold Thou My Hand," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Merle Fisher of Cardington.

After the ceremony an informal reception was given at the home, with Mrs. Carl Fisher of Marion and Mrs. Arthur Murray of Wooster presiding at the table. The bride gave her attendants lapel wings and gold compacts. Sergeant Fisher presented his brother with a military bill fold. Guests from Oconto and West Allis, Wis., Marion, Lancaster, Mansfield and Wooster attended the wedding and reception.

The new Mrs. Fisher, a graduate of St. Luke's hospital in Chicago, is a public health nurse at West Allis, Wis. Sergeant Fisher, a supply sergeant in the Army air corps ground forces, is a graduate of the Cardington High school. He attended Ohio Northern university and the College of Wooster and was an employe of the Osgood Co. before he enlisted last Dec. 26. For the last several years he had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Fisher of 288 East Walnut street.

After a short visit with Ohio relatives Mrs. Fisher will return to West Allis to resume her duties and Sergeant Fisher will return to Pope Field, Fort Bragg, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett of Cardington, brother-in-law and sister of Sergeant Fisher, were hosts at a wedding dinner yesterday in their home for members of the immediate families.

Newlyweds Honored At Shower Near Prospect

A miscellaneous shower for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of south of Prospect was given Thursday evening by Mrs. Ira Hedges at her home south of Prospect. Mrs. Taylor was Miss Lucille Mueck of Radnor before her marriage on Oct. 11.

Present besides the honor guests and the hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hedges and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stiffler, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Stiffler, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blue and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brim, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Spawn, Miss Leota Sowers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holleback, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hetzner and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Knickles, Mr. and Mrs. George Thibaut, Mr. and Mrs. Ozella Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Parrot and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Householder and family, Mrs. Emery Taylor and son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans and son, Mrs. Jennie Hedges, Luther Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pachs, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bevis, Miss Margie Russell, Mrs. Charles Collins, Miss Dorothy Mounts and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Mueck and Ralph Mueck.

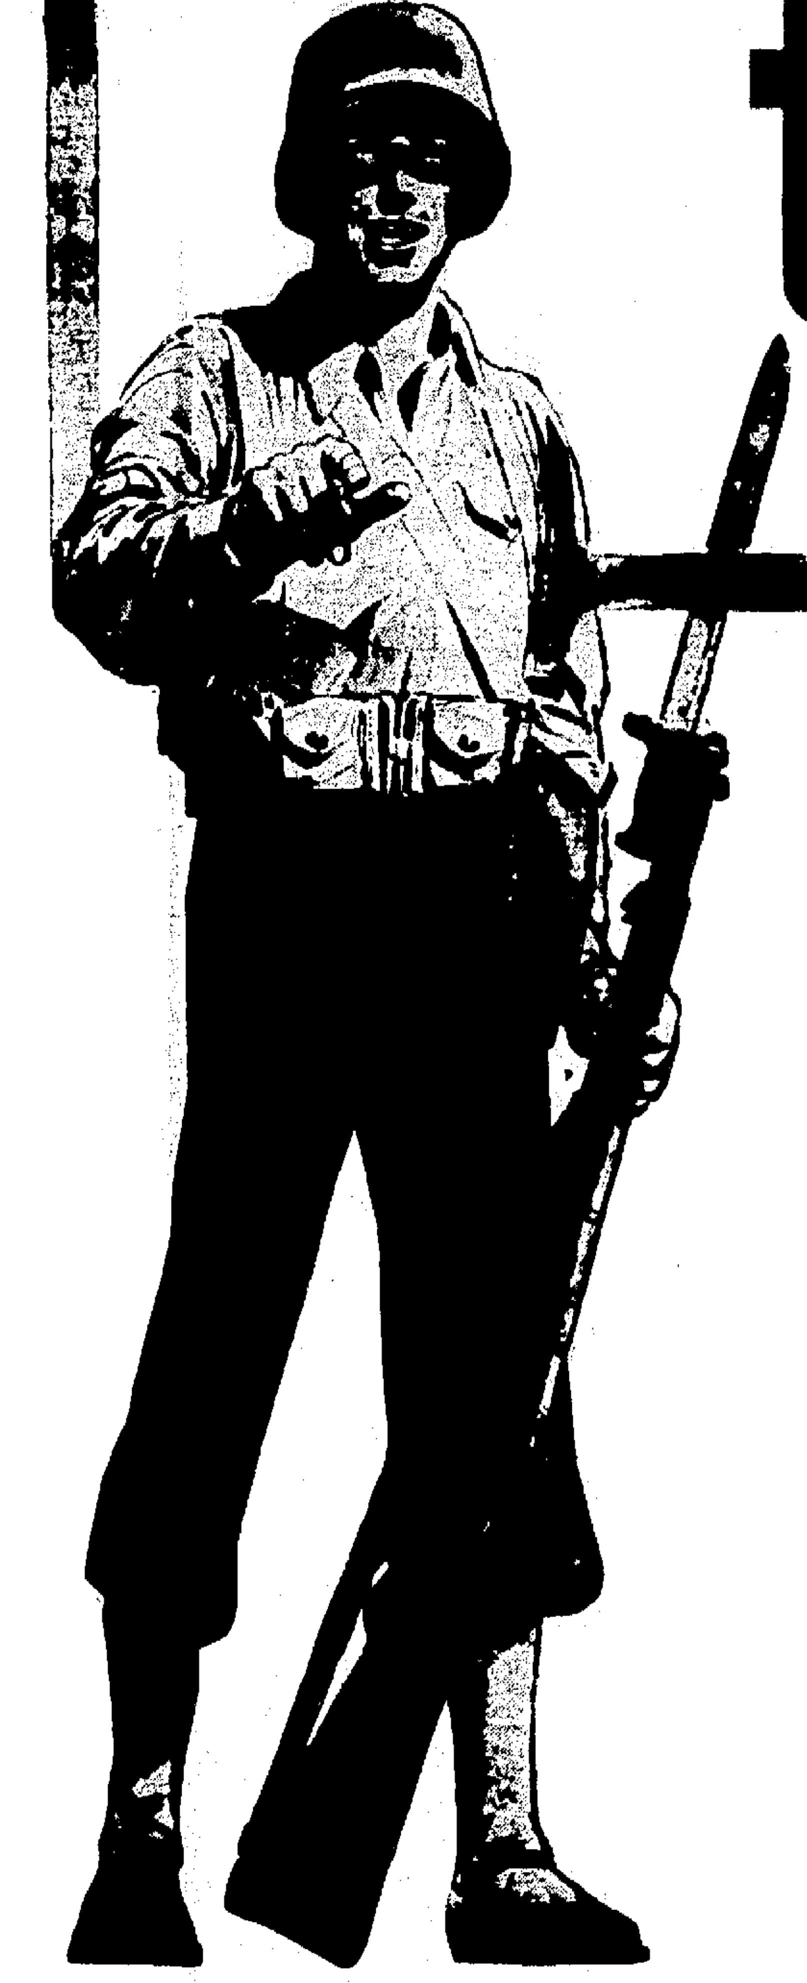
"Don't Kid Yourself!

We could lose this War!"



MISTER, if you think this war's a cinch, better read your paper or listen to the radio. You'll change your mind—quick.

If you think we're going to march to Berlin and Tokio just because we're right—forget it!

People just as clean and decent as we are—just as righteous—just as patriotic, have been ground to the dust under the hob-nailed boots of other people trained and toughened for one purpose—war.

Choose now. Either we give our boys the planes, tanks, guns, and ships they've got to have to win—or we're letting them march to their defeat and our destruction.

Planes cost money. Tanks don't grow on trees. And the storks don't bring subchasers.

We've got to pay for them. "We" means all of us—including you.

How? By buying WAR BONDS. By putting 10 percent of every dollar we earn into the Pay-Roll Savings Plan. A dime out of every dollar—a dollar out of every ten—every payday. And every time our savings amount to $18.75 we get a Bond, worth $25 in 10 years. That's $4 back for every $3 we put in. Isn't that the least we who stay at home can do to help win the war? Stop and think about it—next time you're tempted to buy something you don't really need. Remember the President's words—"We cannot have all we want if our soldiers and sailors are to have all they need."

And if, every payday, we don't set aside every nickel, dime, or dollar we can possibly scrape together for War Bonds, we're letting our boys down.

That's the truth, every word of it—and we know it!

DO YOU KNOW?

When you buy WAR BONDS, you're saving, not giving! Series E WAR BONDS are worth 33⅓ percent more in 10 years! You get back $4 for every $3 you invest!

These BONDS, when held to maturity (10 years), yield 2.9 percent per year on your investment, compounded semi-annually!

Joining a Pay-Roll Savings Plan makes saving easy!

Joining your bank's Victory Club (it works like any Thrift or Christmas Club) is a convenient way to save for War Bonds for those who aren't members of a Pay-Roll Savings Plan.

You can have enough money to do a lot of things you'd like to do, and to buy the many things you'll need after the war is over, if you save enough in War Bonds every payday NOW!

You can start buying WAR BONDS by buying War Stamps for as little as 10 cents.

More Than Coffee at Stake

THE OPA ration of a pound of coffee every five weeks to persons over 15 works out at approximately one cup a day without stretching. Clearly, there is no allowance for any extra spoonful "for the pot."

There is a philosophical point to be decided here. More than coffee is at stake in a rule of thumb that allows no more than two cups of coffee a day for the mother and father of the growing American family.

Here is an invitation to be niggardly with coffee, an excuse to make it stretch further than nature intended it should stretch, to exchange a lot of satisfaction in a cup of good coffee for that thin illusion of pleasure truthfully described as a warm cup of brown water.

Americans depend on good coffee the way the British depend on good tea. It will be a great pity if they let the strains and stresses of war affect the high standard of their coffee making. It would be far better to do without a week at a time, if necessary, and perform a triumph on, say, Sunday morning. Five good cups certainly would be a far greater bargain than seven, or perhaps eight or nine, bad cups. Part of the American way of life is at stake.

You, Too, May Be a Genius

WHAT Henry J. Kaiser, the builder, has to say about genius is important. He believes the United States could accomplish everything it wants to if the thinkers could be made to go to work.

Mr. Kaiser, himself, is a production genius, specializing in ideas about better ways to do things. One of his accomplishments has been to build a cargo ship in 10 days. That's good, but he thinks it can be done quicker than that.

There, in all probability, is the biggest secret of genius—thinking something can be done. The Wrights thought they could build a contraption that would fly. Charles Edison thought a talking machine could be built and an incandescent bulb. The Germans thought the Maginot line could be made useless. The Japanese thought they could catch the United States navy and army asleep at Pearl Harbor. The United States marines thought they could land on Guadalcanal and take Henderson field from the Japanese. All these things were highly unlikely, but they were accomplished thanks to someone having the vision to think they could be done.

In a new book, "Suez To Singapore," which is an account of the almost incredible fuddy-duddying that lost Malaya for our side in the war, Cecil Brown, who was on the scene as a radio correspondent, tells one of those hard-to-forget stories. An American colonel in the Philippines—which couldn't be helped—was fed up to the gills with people who couldn't get things done, particularly people in Washington. Finally he sent a cable to his superior officer in the capital. It said:

"Get off your fat bottom and send those breeches for the guns."

With due respect for genius, performance is largely a matter of getting into action. You, too, may be a genius.

Sample

MOTORISTS may be too busy with the mechanics of the matter to think about its implications, but gasoline rationing registration is a sample of existence in a have-not nation.

There is this difference. That the United States is the only country which had enough resources and could obtain enough resources to make the manufacture and operation of more than 30,000,000 automobiles possible. Two out of every three cars in the world were registered in this country.

However, aside from the fact that Americans are curtailing operation of something they already had, instead of wishing for something they can't expect to get, the elements of national privation are all present in gasoline rationing. The United States has felt the pinch of an acute shortage. Enemies have barred it from an essential commodity, rubber, and have interfered with its supply of a non-essential but highly desirable commodity, coffee.

Perhaps it never was quite so plain before what it would be like to exist, as many nations always have, at the mercy of stronger powers able to withhold supplies at will. Temporarily, the United States is at the mercy of a power that is withholding rubber it desperately needs, at the mercy of a power that can change its habits of eating; at the mercy of a combination of powers that can lower its vaunted standard of living almost at will.

News Behind the News

Effort Made To Put Damper on Any Suits Over $25,000 Salary Ceiling.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, [illegible] salary [illegible]

In the light of [illegible] the [illegible] any civil proceeding.

That danger in itself is enough to put the matter into the courts. There appears to be no precedent for it.

One senator in a position to be the best congressional authority, says, off the record, he knows of none.

Obviously, the treasury dropped that [illegible] regulation to cover [illegible] doubt as to the validity of [illegible].

"Gross Inequities"

The only legal basis for the $25,000 limitation which has been invoked by congress [illegible] anti-inflation [illegible] the government to clamp down on "gross inequities" in salaries.

Obviously, some lawyers are going to make the government prove that a salary above $25,000 is a gross inequity.

The regulation barring them from getting into the courts will no doubt provide them the basis upon which to sue.

A long line of court action is therefore in prospect, but meantime anyone who wants to sue will have to pay bigger income taxes for the privilege.

The bureau of internal revenue, [illegible] itself, [illegible] and then after [illegible] to get it back, [illegible] tax deductions for violation.

Anyone who wants to pay a salary above $25,000 can pay the taxes on the excess and [illegible] imposed in the doubtful regulation, thereby [illegible] the matter of the validity of the regulations into the court that way.

The professionals [illegible] liberals and the administration have always [illegible] high salaries as if they were a social menace, but I have always thought their drive in that direction carried more political weight than [illegible].

Good Politics

Everyone who earns $15 a week looks [illegible] at the man who makes $20 and no doubt the one who makes $100,000 is open to attack [illegible] $25,000. It is good politics [illegible] to keep pushing [illegible] of salaries up front.

[illegible] the actual regulations [illegible] for anti-inflationary purposes [illegible] only $140,000,000 [illegible]

[illegible] to me, are playing [illegible] primary American ideal.

The [illegible] of this nation, [illegible] all the schools, [illegible] become president. The [illegible] inspiring and most important [illegible] which affects all of us who do not expect to be president is that we may become rich.

[illegible] the lure of that pot of gold [illegible] generated energy among our people [illegible] to the energy of other people in Britain, France, anywhere [illegible] world. Their old world idea of America is that of the land where a man can make a fortune.

Possible Effect

If that [illegible] is destroyed by unsettled regulation or otherwise, we may become a listless nation of dullards and sloths, certainly a less energetic driving one. If liberal [illegible] question this, let them mark that this is the direction in which they are taking us.

If the government can regulate salaries at $25,000 it can cut them to $10,000 or $5,000.

Personally I have never been envious of a rich man. I never met one I thought was happy. Most of them carry their riches as a burden.

The movie stars, who make those fabulous salaries in Hollywood, never tell how much they pay their [illegible], how much comes out for [illegible].

[illegible] on $100,000 this year will be $68,801 [illegible] that salary very effectively to $31,197 or less than a third of what the man earned (and [illegible] correspondingly).

It is popular now to say [illegible] especially of the movie stars, that [illegible] That is a matter of your opinion as to the worth of [illegible] individual [illegible] executive.

But what we are doing here in cutting down [illegible] for [illegible] is to abandon the [illegible] that a man is worth what he can get for his services in a competitive market.

Personally, I think the country would be a lot better off and democracy will be fostered longer, if we followed the principle that a man has a right to his earnings [illegible] if he lives by the laws of the country and [illegible] his money in an honest way.

U. S. Brews Air Trouble

[illegible] behind the scenes at Wright Field, Dayton, O., the chief experimental and test station. This is the first of two stories [illegible] to the general [illegible] of The Associated Press.

* * *

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Writer

WRIGHT FIELD, DAYTON, O., Nov. 2—Three hours from Broadway's dimout, as the army cargo ship flies, you arrive in the midst of projects and operations to turn all hell loose in the current and coming war of the air.

It seems peaceful enough as you look out over a vacant golf course from the rambling brick home on the commandant, Brig. Gen. Arthur Vanaman, who was American air attache in Berlin four years and knows all about Nazi air strength. It's a concentrated closeup of destructive power as you observe what the army air forces are doing in their great testing and experimental laboratory, under the aggressive guidance of Maj. Gen. Oliver Echols, head of the materiel command.

Take just for example, a night demonstration of fire power staged for our benefit. Lined up in a row facing the firing pits are a half dozen of the foremost fighter and bombing planes now in mass production in the United States.

Bullets Pour Out

Col. James Gillespie signals and the six .50 caliber wing-mounted 50 calibre guns of the Republic P-47 (Thunderbolt) pour 1,500 slugs into the target with an ear-pounding burst. The seven-gun battery of the P-39 (Bell Airacobra), including one 37 millimeter cannon, blasts away. A cannon burst from the North American P-51 (Mustang) and a demonstration of turret firing by a B-17 (Boeing flying fortress) tops off a thunderous show.

This war in the air is a slugging match and there's no doubt Americans have put the emphasis on carrying the biggest wallop of all and with increasing potency, into the far-flung battle fronts.

The fighter plane that army fliers unstintingly credit with saving the British empire in its darkest hours, the famous Spitfire V, is an [illegible] power by [illegible] weight, heavily-gunned fighters of the U. S. army. It is interesting and indicating to note that to keep pace with [illegible] for a knock-out punch, the British have increased the firepower of the latest models of the Spitfire, by the addition of cannon in support of its battery of .303 calibre machine guns.

Use Heavy Weapons

The [illegible] weapons are as characteristic of the American program for air supremacy as the long range, high altitude heavy bombers which in their newest conception—now on the production lines—will carry bigger bombs a greater distance than anything else that flies.

These are among factors that army leaders consider likely to have decisive influence on the ultimate course and outcome of the war. The heavier American machine gun bullet, for instance, will probably pierce the heaviest armor now known to be part of any enemy plane's equipment. Our latest planes carry much more armor-piercing ammunition than the latest German and Japanese fighter planes.

The Japanese Zero fighter has justly earned a reputation for its maneuverability, climbing rate, and speed—especially on the get-away—but it is no match for any standard American pursuit in fire power or durability in battle. In the words of an American flying general the Zero "can't take it." He explains:

"The public has been misled by the discussion of fighters versus fighters. It should be borne in mind that the primary function of the fighter is to knock down the bomber. The Zero is a poor anti-bomber weapon. It sacrifices armor and other protective devices for speed and agility. It is strictly a hit-and-run machine and, plane for plane, no match

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, Nov. 2, 1932

The day marked the 67th anniversary of the birth of the late President Warren G. Harding and the 12th anniversary of his election to the presidency. Marion and Columbus scheduled observance programs. Outstanding local observance was a Boy Scout pilgrimage to the Harding Memorial. Scout Frank Roberts of troop No. 13 read excerpts from Harding's speeches and Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, third vice president of the Harding Memorial association, gave a review of the president's life.

Bird-McGinnis Post of the American Legion announced plans to attend an Armistice day service Sunday at the First Presbyterian church.

Morrow county officials were attempting to identify the body of a man found dead along the Short Line railroad track. He was about 75 years old.

Mrs. Hazel Forbes Richmond of New York City, former Zeigfeld Follies beauty, arrived here on her way to Prospect to visit the grave of her husband, the late Paul D. Richmond, an official of the R. L. Watkins Co.

Alpheus Clark, 62-year-old Marion garageman, was in serious condition at City hospital following an automobile accident in which both his legs and his left arm were broken.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nash were parents of a daughter born at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis of Fies avenue.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Nov. 2, 1922.

Premier Benito Mussolini, following a conference with the prime minister of Jugo-Slavia, told members of his cabinet he did not believe the Adriatic question would lead to trouble between the two countries, according to a dispatch from Rome. "Italy must return to normal" said the new Fascist premier.

On President Harding's desk were the names of more than 50 men whom he was being urged to appoint to the United States supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice William R. Day. A Washington dispatch reported that seldom before had the pressure for one office been so great as that being exerted for the empty seat on the bench.

The Marion Independent football team announced a game with the fast Marietta team at Lincoln park Sunday. The Marietta team had been undefeated throughout the season.

Marion Kiwanis club, at its luncheon meeting at Hotel Marion, voted unanimously to support the campaign for the proposed storm water sewer bond issue.

District Deputy Irvin installed officers of the Druids lodge. The new officers were George Dutt, junior past arch; Herbert S. Wade, noble arch; J. C. Comstock, vice arch; Carl Utz, conductor; Clarence B. Achr, inside guard; George Lusch, outside guard; T. F. Brennan, chaplain.

The Marion Display Men's association received its charter in a dinner meeting at Hotel Marion. The presentation was made by L. F. Dittmar of Dayton, representing the International Display Men's association.

Mrs. Harriet Primm, wife of J. M. Primm, vice president of the Power Manufacturing Co., died in Phoenix, Ariz.

Women's Corps Growing

Expansion of Armed Service Auxiliaries Planned.

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—The try-out period for women in uniform in the U. S. armed forces is over. The ladies have made good.

It hasn't been announced yet but a big expansion of the uniformed women corps in the army, navy and other forces is in the immediate offing. The WAAC and WAVEs soon will be shooting at a total enrollment of 150,000 members each. Present laws place limitations on the numbers in both of these services, but according to rumor, that limitation soon will be removed. Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, who introduced the original WAACs bill, has another coming up which would make the WAACs an integral part of the Army instead of a mere auxiliary.

Another Fort Des Moines (WAAC training center) may rise soon at Daytona Beach, Fla. The previously announced second training school for WAVEs at Mount Holyoke College, Mass., probably is the forerunner of additional centers in Iowa and Georgia.

"Warcogs" Prepared

The bill establishing the "Warcogs" (Women's Auxiliary of the Coast Guard) already has cleared the house of representatives. The WAFs, under the direction of Nancy Harkness Love, is a small force but growing fast. These women in the auxiliary flying service will never catch up numerically with the WAACs and WAVEs, but proportionately they have a vital spot in the military scheme of things.

There's a great deal of mystery surrounding Jacqueline Cochran's army training school for women pilots, but it is known that she is drawing heavily on the ranks of 3,400 women pilots in the country and training others, without previous experiece, to produce a corps of women flyers capable of piloting anything from an air-borne "jeep" to a trans-oceanic clipper.

Already at Work

The greatest strides so far have been made by the WAACs. In one small office here, 18 WAACs have taken over work previously done by soldiers capable of serving in the front lines. These aren't mere stenographic and clerical jobs ordinarily handled by civil service workers.

The army has made no announcement at this writing as to whether WAACs are serving overseas, but there are rumors that the uniforms are not uncommon in England.

The Navy has been rather reluctant to hand its work over to the WAVEs. WAVEs assigned to jobs in Washington are still "shadows" of the naval officers they are supposed to supersede.

When our armed forces reach that prospective level of seven or eight million men the women in uniform may total 10 per cent of that.

This Week in the Sky

(Prepared especially for this page by the Hayden Planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.)

* * *

The first few mornings of this week are the time to look for Mercury, the small hide-and-seek planet nearest of all to the sun. It rises just before the sun comes up, and with good luck and clear skies it may be just glimpsed in the east before the sunlight blots it out. During the rest of the month Mercury will be too close to the sun to be observed. Mercury at its brightest approaches the brilliance of that brightest of all stars in the heavens, Sirius—The Dog Star. In northern countries Mercury is never very conspicuous because it is always seen in the partially illuminated twilight skies of evening or morning.

On Sunday, Nov. 6, the moon is new. This does not mean, as some believe, that the crescent moon shows its beauty at this time. The new moon is really the "dark of the moon," when the moon is between the earth and the sun, its dark side towards the earth. The moon is entirely invisible at this time, lost in the glare of sunlight.

Full coordination of the muscles of the eyes is not believed to be attained in children until their fifth year.

Merchant Marine

At Last We Are Taking Steps To Give a Break to Formerly Unsung Heroes of Sea Perils.

By DAMON RUNYON

IN STATING that I did not notice anything being done by the public for the members of the merchant marine, I overlooked the fact that one [illegible] canteen was opened in New York City [illegible] exclusive use of the sailors and officers [illegible] service.

However, the canteen, which opened almost at the same time my article was published, operates only one night a week (Mondays) and does not refute my statement that the men of the merchant marine are not getting the appreciation they deserve though it is a move in the right direction. I hope to see it greatly expanded.

Also, I have before me a pamphlet of the United Seamen's Service clubs for the merchant marine which I am informed is sponsored by Henry J. Kaiser, the shipbuilder, and a representative committee of all factions in the shipbuilding industry, including steamship operators, union leaders and welfare organizations. It intends to open clubs in all home and foreign ports as rapidly as possible. It has its first club at 30 East 37th street, formerly the Dartmouth club, now the Andrew Furuseth club.

This is in honor of a great sailor who fought the early battles of the merchant marine against "hell ships" and other intolerable working conditions and helped the late Sen. LaFollette draw up the bill which ameliorated many of these conditions. The clubs are to be the homes of the men of the merchant marine when away from their own homes, and I can think of no more meritorious welfare service in this war.

THE SAILORS of the merchant marine have been left to shift for themselves when ashore and denied the companionship, recreation and entertainment that the canteens for army and navy [illegible] afford. They have been neglected and slighted though their war service is as hazardous and important as that of the men in the combat divisions, but I feel that this neglect has been largely because the public generally has no clear understanding of the merchant marine.

The public does not understand except in a vague way, that success in this war, as in World war I, depends almost entirely on the merchant marine getting supply ships through. I have always thought that the men of the merchant marine in service in wartime should have equal rights with the men of the army and navy, and I [illegible] some effort is being made to bring [illegible] to the attention of congress.

THE IDEA of the future legislative action would give the merchant marine the various privileges of the army and navy, including free mail, and that would be retroactive in nature and take in the men of the merchant marine of 1917-18 who are not permitted free medical care though their indisposition may have been caused by injuries or illness incurred in serving the ships transporting troops to France.

The USS clubs are designed for material aid to the sailors and their families as well as rest houses. The canteen just opened [illegible] for their diversion. It is at the Hotel George Washington at 23rd and Lexington and [illegible] members of the theatrical and other professions are taking a deep interest in the enterprise. I welcome it if only as an indication that the public is at last taking some notice of some of the most gallant fighters in this war.

Small Coins Needed

The seasonal demand for coin for making change in the holiday shopping period is with us again. The mints of the federal government are working twenty-four hours a day but are still unable to meet the demand for nickels and cents.

In discussing this situation, M. J. Fleming, president of Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, emphasized that hundreds of tons of metal vital to the war effort are today being unnecessarily devoted to coinage. "This is," said Mr. Fleming, "because many people with genuine patriotic impulses are actually and unwittingly doing an unpatriotic thing. As a banker I have always been an apostle of thrift. Far be it from me to advocate rifling the baby's bank as an indoor sport; but today we are at war, and valued contribution to the war effort could be made if the piggy banks and sugar bowls were emptied of their coin contents, and such coin used now for the purchase of War Savings stamps or bonds, or be deposited in banks where it will be available for use by the business man.

"At this season of the year the Federal Reserve banks normally pay out many hundreds of tons of minor coin for the convenience of business men and their customers. The unnecessary accumulation of a large volume of coin in small amounts, individually, could easily reach embarrassing proportions."

While the amount of coin which is not serving its normal purpose cannot be accurately estimated, there is little doubt in the minds of competent judges that the sum runs into many millions of dollars. For some time past it has been necessary for Reserve banks to make shipments of coin to banks for use of their customers—not because there is any shortage of such coin, but because so much of it is not now being put to normal use. Furthermore, return to the channels of trade of coin now being withheld would release valuable metals which are vital to the war effort, and at the same time relieve the pressure on the United States mints.

If you volunteer are are not called at once, be patient. You will be called when needed and then, once you have volunteered it is your duty to respond.

THE RED CROSS has work for women that can be done at headquarters or in the home.

Six days a week and three nights the surgical dressing rooms at the St. Mary Community house are filled with women who fold dressings for the armed forces. Quotas have been increased. A few volunteers are needed.

The knitting department has completed thousands of articles. But higher quotas mean more volunteer knitters must report to complete the sweaters and other winter garments that are needed.

For women who cannot knit, there is the sewing department. This sewing is done in groups at the production room at 504 South State street. This branch, too, needs more active workers.

Largest Red Cross activity has been first aid classes for civilians. Both men and women may enroll in these classes which train them to provide first aid.

Red Cross home nursing courses will teach you how to improve the general health of your family and care for someone who may be ill at your home during wartime. Volunteers are needed in this branch.

There are several thousand women and girls active in Marion chapter of the Red Cross. Officials say they could easily use twice that number. Here's your opportunity to serve.

If you reside in a rural community and think there's something more you'd like to do to speed victory the granges, Farm Bureau units and P-T A. organizations will direct you to the proper authorities.

Harding High Course Gives Pupils Job Experience Plus Class Training

28 Seniors Spend Mornings at School, Afternoons and Saturdays on Jobs in Marion Stores.

A group of 28 Harding High school seniors are dividing their time between class room work and actual job experience in a new course of instruction offered for the first time this year at Harding High school. The course is provided to train seniors interested in salesmanship in the fundamentals of selling by giving them actual experience.

Mrs. Lucille Stahl, instructor of the class, presented the students with a list of Marion merchants willing to cooperate in the course and each pupil applied for a position with one of those concerns. The students work for the merchants in the afternoons and on Saturday. They are paid for their work and their employer grades them. Two credit units are given for the course.

Checks On Work

Mrs. Stahl observes the work of the students in the afternoons and discusses their problems with their employers. These problems are brought before the class the next morning and suggestions are made for their solution.

The merchants report that these pupils are above average in their work and Mrs. Stahl stated that their class room work is about average.

Beginning Nov. 9 Mrs. Stahl will conduct two classes in the afternoon for pupils who wish to go into the stores as sales people during the Christmas season. This will be an intensive course covering only the most important points of salesmanship.

List of Students

A list of the students enrolled in the course follows: Betty Griffith, Dorothy Messenger, Robert McGrew, Ronald Arndt, Carl Lytle, Marjorie Harvey, Thomas Finch, Betty Graff, Emogene Martin, Dan Carskadden, Charles Sidenstricker, Margaret Amrine, Leona Spence, Mary Short, Barbara Wolfe, Phyllis Acker, Franz Brothers, Lila Hinze, Eunice Dennis, Leonard Kellogg, Lee Roessner, Marvin Higgins and Martha McClure.

Before accepting the position as instructor here, Mrs. Stahl was employed with the H. L. Reed Co. department store in Mansfield.

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 2—The board of governors of the Galion Camera club has announced that the first prize in the Galion scrap metal drive photographic contest has been awarded to Rev. Fr. William J. Killoran and the St Patrick's school. The subject of the winning picture was the donation of the bells of St. Patrick's school which were given to start the scrap collection. The prize was $7.

The human interest photograph of two children gathering their metal in a wagon went to Mrs. DeMarcus Gates, with an award of $5.

Third prize went to Ralph E. Mohat with his entry of a picture of discarded electric and gas irons on their way to the scrap pile. The prize was $1.

In the picture of the old school bells Michael Dougherty dressed as a soldier and John Korn, as a sailor, standing beside an effigy of Uncle Sam, are shown with Father Killoran and Jackie LaForrest. When Father Killoran submitted the photograph he said, "The bells called boys and girls to school each day of their attendance and now follow them on their way to victory."

BUCYRUS, Nov. 2 — Walter Bauer post, Veterans of Foreign wars added the names of nine new members, all members of the 134th Field Artillery band who are now serving overseas, to their roster last week, Commander Joe Kaupp announced today.

For signing the new members Kaupp will be awarded the "victory palm leaf," the decoration issued by the supreme commander of the Military Order of Cootie, the honorary degree of the V.F.W.

New members added were Lee Saffell, Walter Dobbins, Robert Weidemaier, Myron Wentz, George Dustman, Lowell D. Eichhorn, Lester C. Klahn, Oscar W. Conner and William Brumbacker. Robert Knuble, who is also overseas in an army unit, is also a new member added since going across.

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, Nov. 3

Excellent opportunities for progress and the launching of new and productive programs is found in this day's lunar and mutual aspects of major planets. It should be a propitious time for attacking ambitious projects with heightened vigor, initiative and determination, since many phases of creative ability are under high stimuli for reaching desired objectives. Many forms of cooperation and approbation are assured but these should not be frustrated by indulgence in impetuous, erratic or turbulent conduct. Calm and poise are enjoined.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of unusual achievements in important lines of constructive effort, with major projects and fresh and bold programs gaining and assistance of elders, friends and those in influential positions. It is a time for attacking ambitious propositions with initiative, resolution and decision and not erratic, tempestuous or impulsive moods. Well-organized plans carried through with poise and deliberation should advance all goals and cherished ideals, despite minor delays.

A child born on this day may be endowed with excellent constructive abilities which will be demonstrated on practical lines and skills. In spite of erratic or emotional moods it should enjoy personal prestige and romance.

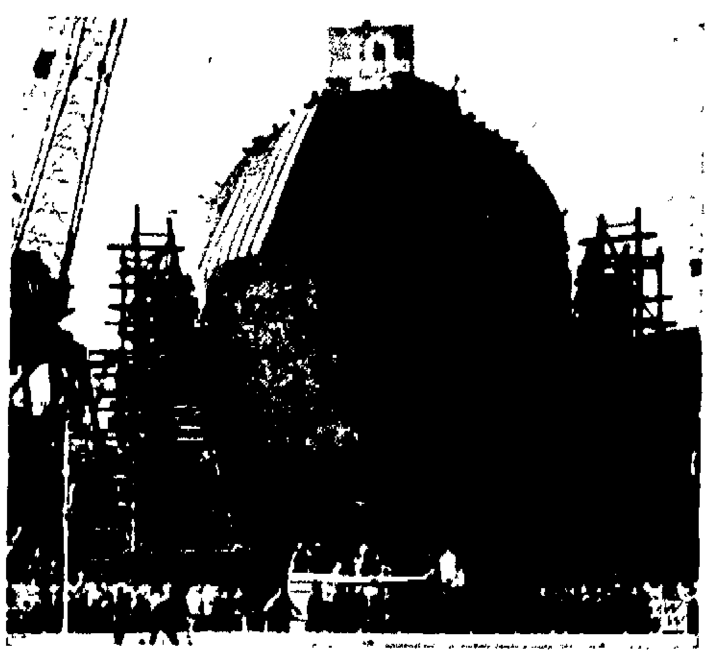
Traveling the New Oregon Trail

KAISER PORTLAND SPECIAL TRACK 17

THE FAREWELL: Recruits for work in the Henry J. Kaiser shipyards say goodbye to friends at railroad station before boarding special train.

THE WORK: Raymond Weller, former window-trimmer, begins as shipfitter's helper.



THE RESULT: Using workers previously unskilled, Kaiser raises Liberty ships like this from blue print to blue sea in record time of ten days.

There's a new Oregon trail—a trail of Easterners moving west to turn out Liberty ships in ten days at the Kaiser yards. Wide World Features Writer John Grover went west with a special train of workers to get the full story of these modern pioneers. In three articles he tells how they live, how they were picked for their jobs, how they were made ready to work the day they arrived. The first article appears below.

By JOHN GROVER

Wide World Features Writer

ENROUTE TO OREGON—Supervised mass migration of workers from New York to the man-hungry shipyards in Oregon has created a new Oregon trail a hundred years after the covered wagon pioneers trekked slowly across the plains.

What manner of men are the pioneers of '42? Before starting on this trip, I asked Todd Woodell, in charge of the Kaiser Company recruiting in the New York area, and he picked three cards at random from the files of men about to entrain for the Far West—Raymond Weller, John R. Hinklein and Benjamin Brown.

Weller, 35, was working as a window trimmer in a chain drug store when the chance for more money and wider opportunity in the shipyards attracted him.

He is married, has a 14-year-old boy and lives in the Queens federal housing project erected as a slum-clearance measure for low-income families.

Served in Army

Weller was born in Rochester, served a three-year enlistment in the U. S. army during the depression, and has worked as a carpenter and general handy man, graduating from building window sets to window trimming. His hobby, which contributed to his decision to go with the Kaiser company, is building ship models.

Mrs. Weller works one day a week as an extra clerk in a department store, but plans to work in a parachute sewing plant until their son is graduated from grade school in January. She has never been west, and is dubious about leaving New York, but Weller is anxious to have them go to Portland after graduation.

Jack Hinklein is 23 years old married. With his wife he has lived with his parents in the suburban Bronx. His last job was as a lifeguard. Jack also boxed professionally as a welterweight, and was interscholastic swimming champion of New York. He did not finish high school.

Jack's father urged him to join the shipbuilding migration. Opportunities for young men in the larger eastern centers are less than in the west, the elder Hinklein believes.

Jack is a native New Yorker. He is the first of his family ever to travel west of the Hudson river.

Graduate of Howard

By a coincidence, Brown, a Negro, was also a lifeguard. He was Hinklein's supervisor at one public beach. Brown is a 1929 graduate of Howard university, Washington, D. C., and worked for a considerable time in federal WPA projects. He is married, and also lives in the upper Bronx. He was in the real estate business with his father for a time, and was also a social service investigator. He was a college football tackle and also played professionally. He doubled for Paul Robeson in the water scenes in "The Emperor Jones," as the great singer-actor could not risk a cold through exposure.

None of the three men had any experience in shipbuilding or heavy construction. This is no barrier under the Kaiser "miracle system" that makes shipworkers out of untrained labor, and sets production records, too.

After clearance with the U. S. employment service, the accepted applicants were fingerprinted in New York for checking against possible saboteurs. They were also issued numbered "dog tags" and meal tickets for the four-day train trip starting at the Erie station in Jersey City.

Brown, Weller and Hinklein, plus 462 other recruits and a young mob of relatives saying goodbye, assembled one afternoon at the station. These men constituted the contingent of K-6, the sixth Kaiser special train of workmen for the Oregon shipyards.

CONSTRUCTION RATE GOOD IN SEPTEMBER

Above Last Year Although Total Falls for 1942.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2—The federal reserve bank of Cleveland reports that although Fourth district construction contracts have been declining since last June, September remained [illegible] per cent above a year ago and higher than the same month in any year since 1929."

"Private construction in September accounted for only 15 per cent of the total and was at the lowest level in dollar volume since early in 1938," the bank stated in its monthly review of the [illegible] western Pennsylvania-eastern Kentucky-West Virginia Panhandle area.

"The recent war production board order bringing a halt to virtually all construction not directly essential to the war effort points to further curtailment in the field of construction."

The bank noted that a retail sales boom in July, August and the first half of September "failed to carry through the second half of the month."

Department stores "have liquidated their large stocks somewhat," the bank added, so that "stocks on Sept. 30 were 20 per cent greater than they were on the same date in 1941. This is considerably smaller than the year-to-year increase of 75 per cent, and over, reported a few months ago."

Errol Flynn Appears on Rape Charge Today

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2—Film Actor Errol Flynn was summoned to appear for preliminary hearing today on charges of raping two 17-year-old girls.

Charged first with statutory rape upon Betty Hansen, 17-year-old soda jerker from Lincoln, Neb., Flynn was indicted several days later for allegedly raping Peggy LaRue Satterle, daughter of a hotel chef, when she was but 15.

The Hansen girl charged Flynn was intimate with her during a party at the fashionable Bel-Air home of Fred McEvoy, wealthy British sportsman, last Sept. 27. The Satterle girl, a Hollywood nightclub entertainer, alleged the actor twice raped her while on a yachting trip to nearby Catalina island in August, 1941.

Flynn has denied the accusations.

Pen Court To Try 3 Who Tried Escape

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2—Warden Frank D. Henderson of Ohio penitentiary said today that three prisoners, held in the institution's "punishment hole" since Thursday in connection with an escape attempt, would be tried "some time this week" before the prison's superior court.

The warden declined to identify any of the inmates with the escape plot. Two others were detained for questioning after officials found electric light wires to the prison's east wall severed and discovered a sheet-rope and metal hooks apparently designed for wall scaling.

15 Freight Cars Leave Track at Brinkhaven

By The Associated Press

MOUNT VERNON, O., Nov. 2—Patrolman Frank D. Armstrong reported today that 15 cars of a Columbus, Akron & Cleveland freight train were derailed north of nearby Brinkhaven, tying up traffic on the branch Pennsylvania line.

Armstrong said "several hundred feet of track" was torn up as the cars left the track on a curve. He said trainmen told him they thought the derailment resulted from the cars' swaying on the curve. The patrolman said no casualties had been reported.

With America In Danger Of

Doctor Shortage

Here Is The Question

In face of the Government's warning of this serious Doctor Shortage, should the voters of this 8th District Tuesday ask our Doctor Congressman Smith to leave his Hospital Clinic, abandon his profession to stay in Washington, when as a doctor he could be so much more useful at home helping other over-worked doctors take care of the sick?

In War-Time Should Men Stay In The Work Or Profession For Which They Are Best Trained?

In war-time should men serve, where, from training and experience, they are qualified to serve best? In war-time it is dangerous to keep in Congress the politician who is against everything!

Why Brooks Fletcher Should Be Our Next Congressman

Many say: "We are going to vote for Brooks Fletcher for Congress on Tuesday, Nov. 3rd because we do not think it is right to keep in Congress from this 8th District the Doctor politician whose record shows he opposes everything, is against everything and voted wrong against America's early Defense Plans to provide our soldiers with guns, ships and planes to protect their lives and save America."

People Say: "LET US SEND ALL-OUT AMERICANS TO CONGRESS TO BACK UP OUR GOVERNMENT IN WAR TIME."

People are saying: "In an All-Out War for America we should send All-Out Americans to Congress. And Brooks Fletcher is that kind of American. He should be our next Congressman."

This Tuesday, Nov. 3rd vote for Brooks Fletcher for Congress. Brooks Fletcher will back up our Government and our soldiers in winning the war and in winning the peace after the war. WE CAN DEPEND ON HIM!

Marion County Executive Committee, James Lauer, Chairman.

Extensions of high priorities will be more effective in obtaining replacements."

The magazine declared steelmakers' scrap problem has not been solved "despite the generous outpouring of steel and iron scrap in the recent salvage drive and the continued effort to draw out dormant material from industrial and other sources." The reason, Steel added, is that the scrap is of the non-recoverable type and stockpiles are in no case enough for winter supply.

other pat on the back yesterday.

"Vote for McSweeney and put a man in the statehouse who will cooperate with the man in the White House," Kroll urged.

Debating before the City club in Cleveland Saturday, McSweeney charged that Bricker refused to ask the state legislature to change voting hours thereby preventing, "laboring men in industry who are supporting me and the Democratic ticket" from getting to the polls conveniently.

Bricker stressed his promise there would be no new state taxes in the next two years and asserted Ohio's civilian defense program was "one of the best in the United States."

Republican Chairman Ed D. Schorr said the party would retain its present 11 district congress seats and gain five or six and would "materially increase" republican majorities in the Ohio Senate and house of representatives.

One State Congress Race

The only state-wide congress race on the ballot is the contest between two incumbents, Republican George H. Bender and Democrat Stephen M. Young, for the one at-large seat. The state lost one at-large seat through the congressional reapportionment after the 1940 census.

Seeking third terms, along with Bricker, are Lieutenant Governor Paul M. Herbert, State Treasurer Don H. Ebright and Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert, all Republicans. Their Democratic opponents are George D. Nye for lieutenant governor, Robert S. Cox for state treasurer, and Herbert S. Duffy for attorney general. Republican Edward J. Hummel opposes incumbent Democratic John E. Sweeney for secretary of state.

The constitutional amendment proposal provides that the governor appoint judges to fill court vacancies until a successor can be elected at the next general election.

Republicans Claim Gains in House

By The Associated Press

With Republicans predicting "substantial" gains and democrats conceding them some but not enough to control, America's adult millions will pause briefly in their drive to win the war to vote tomorrow in the "off-year" elections which will determine the make-up of the 78th congress and state administrations.

In the first wartime election since 1918, when the Republicans gained control from a Democratic congress under Woodrow Wilson and held it for 12 years, upwards of 30,000,000 voters — light compared with former years—are expected to choose from more than 1,600 candidates, 33 senators, 432 house members, 32 governors and a host of other state officers.

Main held its election Sept. 14, going Republican as expected.

Sharp reductions in registrations indicated a light vote despite appeals from party leaders, including President Roosevelt, that citizens go to the polls.

Attacks Bureaucrats

In an attack on "Washington Bureaucrats," Frank Gannett, assistant chairman of the Republican national committee, declared in a radio speech last night that a Republican victory would mean that "we are going to prosecute the war with more efficiency, more determination, more power, and win decisively."

Senator Thomas (D-Utah) recalled in a statement that Woodrow Wilson lost his "program for the peace" with the election of a Republican congress, and charged that a "powerful and insidious movement" was trying to wipe out the social gains which he said had been made by the New Deal.

The Republicans claimed they would pick up at least seven new senate seats — six of them now held by Democrats and the seventh by the veteran Independent, Norris of Nebraska. They have only 29 now, so even if their predictions come true they still would have only 36, or 12 short of a majority.

Democratic spokesmen conceded nothing in the senate races. They said they expected to retain their present strength of 65.

With 53 turnovers needed to give them house control—a majority of the house is 218—Republicans believed they would pick up at least 35 net. The Democrats, though, would not give them more than 15 new seats.

Present Lineup

The present line-up in the house is 257 Democrats, 165 Republicans, five other parties, and eight vacancies, of which seven were Democratic and one Republican.

One hundred house candidates, mostly in the south, will be elected without opposition.

Chief interest in the governorship races centers in the pivotal states of New York, California, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Massachusetts. Republican leaders are claiming victories in all six states. The first three now have Democratic governors and the Democrats say they will continue to be Democratic next year. They do not concede the other states either.

National issues have been virtually non-existent in the state campaigns, with pre-Pearl Harbor foreign policies figuring in only a few important contests, such as those in Massachusetts and Illinois.

DECISION TO AFFECT U. S. EATING HABITS

President Considers Proposal To Name Food Czar.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—Eating habits of American civilians for the duration of the war may be determined largely by the decision President Roosevelt makes on a proposal that he appoint a food administrator to control production and consumption.

The proposal, advanced by War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson, reflects sharp and fundamental differences within the government over war food requirements and the possibility of further shortages.

At the bottom of these differences is the question of how much manpower, machinery, transportation, and other facilities should be devoted to food production.

On the one hand are those—including Secretary of Agriculture Wickard—who believe that food production should be maintained at as near-present record levels as possible.

On the other are those—including some war production board officials and military authorities—who believe that the country cannot meet both its military manpower and material needs and still maintain agricultural production at anywhere near present levels.

Another issue has been allocation of materials for farm machinery. The WPB will allow farmers to get only 23 per cent as much machinery as they bought in 1940. Wickard believes this far too small.

Causing other disagreements is the matter of controlling existing food supplies. Wickard is known to favor immediate allocation or rationing programs for all major classes of food.

Weighing only four and a half pounds, a new electrically operated flexible-shaft grinder can be operated on a workbench, hung on a wall or suspended by a strap from a user's shoulder.

Turks Keeping Close Watch on Attack by Axis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON, Nov. 2—The [illegible] declaration by President [illegible] Inonu of Turkey that his country is nearer war than at any time since the world conflict started—from a cause he does not specify—may [illegible] as a warning to his people of the danger of an axis attack and a notification to Hitler that the Turks are not [illegible].

What the [illegible] Inonu has in mind seems clear. Long ago I called attention to the belief that if Hitler were frustrated in his interlocking Caucasus and Egypt campaigns, he likely would try to reach the Middle East either by attack on Turkey or through bypassing Turkey and making a drive on Syria with air and water-borne forces.

Well, frustration appears to be riding the fuehrer's shoulders like the old man of the sea. Undoubtedly he will make further desperate efforts to crack the middle eastern spot for it represents his only hope of winning the war.

That certainly put Turkey on the hot spot.

Of course Turkey might have her choice of joining the axis or the allies but ever since the war began all indications have been that if she had to abandon neutrality she would fight for the United Nations. That is the reason Hitler has been so careful not to antagonize the Turks.

Naturally it is problematical whether the Nazi leader could make such an attack in view of the terrific jam he is in on the Russian front. However presumably Inonu sees signs which point to trouble.

If the Germans do attempt such an adventure it would mean that they would perform a holding operation on the Caucasus battlefront while flinging the army either at Syria or directly at Turkey.

The Nazi chief's great difficulty in attacking Syria would be to master sufficient air strength. He is short of warplanes, short of pilots and short of both gasoline and oil, according to my information from a reliable source.

Moreover, he presumably will strain every nerve to send air support to Rommel in Egypt.

Still, the German mind plans a long way ahead and it wouldn't be surprising to see the development which Inonu apparently has in mind as a possibility.

The statement would seem at once to be a declaration of Turkish policy and a prediction that the axis cannot win the war.

TOWNSEND CLUB DISTRICT MEETING HERE DRAWS 200

Republican, Democratic Candidates Represented on Program.

An audience of approximately 200 was present at a rally of the Townsend clubs of the eighth district yesterday afternoon at Central Labor Union hall. Mrs. Rhoena Addis, district deputy, of Findlay, Louis Weber of Cleveland, representing George H. Bender, state Republican congressional candidate and Joseph T. Ferguson of Cleveland, representing John McSweeney, Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, spoke. Each urged members of the clubs to go to the polls.

Marion Club 4 sponsored the rally. Arthur Hershner presided. Prayer was given by Rev. D. N. Kelly of Wesley Methodist church. Music was furnished by Chris Ruth and William Sergent and Mrs. Louise Hornbeck and Mrs. Sergent. Mrs. Edwin S. Price, leader of Girl Scout Troop 9, supervised ushering by members of the troop including Mary Helen Buckingham, Elfredia Reeh, Delores Griffin, Marilyn Taylor, Delores Owens, Marilyn Rizer, Mary Smith and Lola Mary Bennett.

LEARNED CHARWOMAN

By International News Service

OXFORD, O. — Dust pans and mops, vacuum cleaners and scrubbing brushes are sharing honors with caps and gowns and lecture notes at western college, Oxford, this year with faculty members proving that these items are dignified indeed.

No, it is no trick or laboratory experiment. Defense jobs, and the army and navy have all but exhausted the supply of domestic workers in this little college town and Western finds it difficult to provide its usual maid service in dormitories.

So, as a result, professors who live on the campus have volunteered to be their own charwomen for the duration.

American Pilots Use P-40's as Dive Bombers

WITH AMERICAN AIR FORCES IN CHINA, Oct. 31—(Delayed)—American airmen flying shark-nosed P-40's, known hereabouts as "pea-shooters," introduced a new trick in [illegible] warfare with a dive-bombing assault on Hongkong last Wednesday.

One big merchant ship was left in flames by a direct hit, and near-misses were scored against two others in this third raid within a week upon the Japanese-occupied British crown colony.

This dive-bombing assault was the first in this theater by the Curtiss P-40's, built originally as fighters but now become jacks of all trades in the hands of resourceful Americans.

"We are using them for about everything except submarines," Col. Robert L. Scott of Macon, Ga., a pursuit group commander, said.

In one eight-day period they unloaded 50 tons of bombs on Nanchang, Hankow and Linchwan in China and Haiphong, French Indo-China.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR ZIEMER TALK

Speaker Here Tuesday Under Federation Auspices.

Final plans are being made today for the talk to be given by Gregor Ziemer, WLW commentator, Tuesday night at the Palace theater, under the auspices of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs. Mr. Ziemer's appearance in Marion is one of the outstanding events on the federation calendar this season, and is the second number on the year's program.

In keeping with the plan outlined for the year only members of clubs affiliated with the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs and holders of patron tickets will be admitted to the lecture. No tickets will be sold at the door the night of the talk, Mrs. R. A. Garvin, ticket chairman, has announced. The doors of the theater will open at 7 and the lecture will begin at 8, it was announced today by Mrs. H. K. Mouser, program chairman.

Mr. Ziemer will come to Marion from Cincinnati.

W. Lee[illegible], R. M. Miller, T. E. Kantea[illegible], William R. Martin and E. R. Bondley.

W. F. Orcutt, principal of Central Junior High school, was master of ceremonies for the program at the memorial.

Mr. Coffey, who served in France in World War I with the 58th Coast Artillery, 32nd Brigade of the First Army, challenged Americans to do what President Harding would do if he were living today.

"Had it been President Harding's lot to serve as a war President I have no doubt in my mind that he would have been an inspirational leader, willing and anxious to make every sacrifice necessary to win this war.

"Today we meet in a critical hour in the nation's history. The age of dictators has returned, similar in some respects to the dictators that Warren Harding's ancestors knew, but yet on a grander scale than the tyrants of old. Established orders have crashed and strange new concepts have risen from the ruins to enslave a stunned civilization. Our country is at war.

"If Harding Were Alive"

"If Warren G. Harding were living today, I am sure that the following would be his answer to the youth of America, fighting that decency, democracy and civilization, as we know it, might live:

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands—One Nation, indivisible with liberty and justice for all—And in support of this pledge, I do hereby further pledge and solemnly swear: Whatever my capacity, I dedicate it to the service of my country and her allies.

"In my work or business, I will devote my efforts, regardless of profit or personal interest, to the winning of the war.

"So long as the war endures, no setting sun shall record an hour or a minute of possible service on my part, omitted or misspent.

"I will be ever loyal to our Allies; and by no act or word of Allies; and by no act or word of mine shall their task be made more difficult or delayed in its accomplishment.

"Never shall supplies for our fighting men or those of our Allies be too little or two late through any act of mine.

"I pledge the same devotion to duty, the same readiness for sacrifice which I expect of those in our fighting forces.

"I hereby constitute myself a loyal fighter on the home front, fully realizing that I brand myself a traitor by any omission of effort, to the same extent as a front line fighter who lays down his arms.

"To all this and whatever more may be required of me, I pledge my time, my energy—My all. So Help Me God!"

A call to assembly by Frederick Cathers of Troop 3, Marion, opened the memorial program.

Harding Band Plays

The Harding High school band, under the direction of Homer E. Hufman, played "The Star Spangled Banner" while the group joined in singing.

Eagle Scout Ranny Williams, Troop 3, Marion led all scouts and scouters in a pledge to the American flag followed by the invocation pronounced by Rev. L. H. Worth, pastor of the First Evangelical and Reformed church. Allen Cleveland of Troop 7, Marion led in a reconsecration of the scout oath.

R. R. Peters, managing editor of the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum and president of the Harding area of Boy Scouts spoke briefly.

Mr. Peters introduced Howard B. Knepper of Cincinnati, new regional scout executive who came here Friday to assist in preparations for the pilgrimage.

Mr. Coffey's memorial address followed.

The assembly joined in singing "God Bless America" to the accompaniment of the Harding High school band.

3 Wreaths Placed

Three wreaths were placed on the tombs of President and Mrs. Harding. Capt. George R. Parks, aid to Maj. Gen. Fred C. Wallace, commanding general of the Fifth Service Command with headquarters at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, placed a wreath on the President's tomb as special representative of President Roosevelt. Marilyn Bachman, Joyce Ann Dayton and Esther Markley placed a wreath for the Girl Scouts on the tomb of Mrs. Harding and Eagle Scouts Gene Driscoll and George Jutze placed wreath on the President's tomb from Cincinnati scouts.

The service adjourned following sounding of taps by Scout Fred Cathers.

Receptions Held

Following the memorial program receptions were held at the Harding home for the Boy Scouts, at the First Reformed church for Girl Scouts and at the American Legion Dugout in honor of Commander Coffey.

Marion Troop 17 served luncheon for visiting scouts at the Harding Home and Museum. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dombaugh, in charge of the home, conducted tours of the home and museum. A tea was given at the First Reformed Church for approximately 125 Girl Scouts with Mrs. E. O. Smith of Forest street, Girl Scout commissioner, in charge. Legionnaires and their wives were guests at a luncheon from 5 to 6:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon at the Legion Dugout on South High street. Commander Coffey spoke briefly.

Primarily a housewife, she is however an expert business woman who knows she is doing her bit to promote civilian defense. She believes that all citizens should know how to handle firearms—a mighty useful weapon if invasion becomes a reality.

The Smiths' little factory is a unique institution which grew out of his hobby of rifle shooting. For years he sought the perfect shooting coat—one which was comfortable, which took up the terrific shock of a high-powered army rifle and still gave him plenty of ease while shooting.

In desperation, he remodeled a pair of old coveralls, padding the shoulder with sheepskin. Gradually he worked out a jacket which seemed not bad at all, with shoulder and elbow padding in the proper places.

Opens Plant in Basement

When his rifle club companions saw the coat orders came pouring in—so fast that Rifleman Smith eased himself out of the furrier's trade and opened a factory in the basement of his home, devoting himself to the business.

Then came the war, just as business was hitting the peak. Into the army with a commission went Howard Smith to teach new recruits at Camp Crowder in Missouri how to use their rifles.

Here's where his wife comes in. She is doing the bookwork, supervising the six employes as they turn out coats at top speed, and keeping house on the side.

Mrs. Smith, back in the days when the business was getting its start, helped out with the sewing and cutting. Now she's doing a little of that as well as keeping an eagle eye on the shop itself. She's doing her part to keep the home fires burning while her husband is in Uncle Sam's army.

U. S. Films Help Troops Relax in Australia

By International News Service

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA —Films donated by the motion picture industry are bringing all important relaxation each week to thousands of doughboys at battle stations and lonely outposts.

At Darwin and Port Moresby movies are shown twice a week, and it is a point of honor with the men who distribute and transport the precious films that they are always on schedule.

The man largely responsible for the distribution is Sergeant E. T. Craig of Hollywood, a former publicity agent in the film city.

Despite transport difficulties, and the lack of spare parts for projectors in Australia, Craig claims the films "always get through on time."

Musical pictures and "whodunits" are most popular with the doughboys and airmen in war zones, Craig says.

HERE IS PROOF

From America's Leading Newspapers That

BROOKS FLETCHER IS RIGHT!

The Fortification of Guam Is A REAL Issue And NOT A "Phony Issue" As Dr. Smith Says

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, Cincinnati Enquirer, New York Times and other leading newspapers of America including the Ladies Home Journal, the largest publication of its kind in the world, all say that the "Fortification of Guam" as was referred to in this paper under the heading "How Congressman Smith Helped Japan" is one of the most vital issues in selecting a Congressman.

Here Is What The Ladies' Home Journal Says:

This month's issue of the Ladies Home Journal, page 103, says that one of the REAL tests on which you should base your choice of candidates for Congress this Tuesday is whether he voted for or AGAINST the "Fortification of Guam."

"That is one of the REAL tests of the fitness of a candidate for Congress to serve in war time," says the Ladies Home Journal Editorial which was reprinted in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

And Congressman Dr. Frederick C. Smith, Who Is Up For Reelection Tuesday, Voted AGAINST Fortifying Guam

You ask any of the American Marines who fought for their lives against the Japanese on Guam Island, which Congressman Smith refused to help fortify,—ask any of THEM whether "Fortifying Guam" is a "PHONY ISSUE," as Congressman Smith says in his big advertisement.

How do you think any of those American Marines who fought for their lives on Guam Island against the murderous Japs would vote here Tuesday? Which candidate for Congress would THEY choose to represent THEM in war time?

Life Had Its Problems for Sailor Girls of '17

By MARGARET KERNODLE
Wide World Features Writer

WASHINGTON—The WAVES of 1942 may be surprised to learn that their elder sisters, the Yeomen (F) of 1917, startled the capital with the short skirts of their uniforms.

My dears, they were actually ankle-revealing! The Yeomen (F)—F for female—said that some smart Navy man decided sweep-the-floor fashions were unmilitary. So the hems hiked up.

Women failed to fall for feminine uniforms as fast then as they do now. It was downright difficult to get the girls into uniform. They liked their frills. Then somebody in the Navy dug up the idea of drilling the petticoat sailors and of holding inspections. Flowered hats didn't fit inspection fashion, nor did high-heeled pumps pound pavements comfortably during drills. The women soon went for uniforms with enthusiasm.

Mrs Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of Navy, took a house at 1720 Massachusetts Avenue as a recreation clubhouse for the Navy women. They formed a battalion which was drilled by Marine sergeants.

The women were correctly called Yeomen (F), not "Yeomenettes," as we sometimes hear the term today. The way they came into the Navy was this:

"Is there any law that says a yeoman must be a man?" Secretary Daniels asked his legal advisers. The answer was no, but only men had been enlisted up to then. The law did not say "male."

"Then enroll women in the Naval Reserve as Yeomen," Secretary Daniels said, "and we will have the best clerical assistance the country can provide."

The Navy got a total of 11,000 Yeomen (F) by calling women to the Naval Reserve, mostly to take care of clerical work at the Navy Department in Washington. Some Yeomen (F) were translators, some were draftsmen, fingerprinters, camouflage designers, recruiting agents, or workers in the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery or in Naval Intelligence.

Their stations included the United States, Guam, Panama, the Canal Zone, Hawaii and France. In addition 269 girls were members of the Marine Corps as Marinettes, and 1,713 were Navy nurses.

When the war was over, many of the women received temporary appointments to similar positions under civil service but had to pass an examination for permanent appointment. Yeomen (F) with honorable discharges were allowed an increase of five per cent on civil service ratings and were included in all subsequent benefits affecting World War veterans.

LUTHERAN GROUP HONORS 2 WITH LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. Scott Gast, Mrs. Fred Clagett Receive Jewels.

Life membership jewels were presented to Mrs. Scott Gast and Mrs. Fred Clagett at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Emanuel Lutheran church Friday afternoon at the church. A gift of $10 was voted to the Lutheran Hour broadcast program, and plans were made to contribute a gift of towels to the Willston Home of Mercy for Christmas.

Mrs. George Turner presided. A piano number by Mrs. William Ackerman and devotions conducted by Mrs. G. W. Carter opened the meeting. Mrs. J. P. Hoch was in charge of the thank-offering program, assisted by Mrs. Henry Dawson, Mrs. A. M. Bufford and Mrs. Charles Hinamon. Mrs. G. W. Carter and Mrs. Louise Sims contributed readings and Mrs. Turner sang "My Task." A solo by Miss Dorothy Vollmer completed the program after which the thank-offering boxes were collected. A potluck dinner was served with Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. Clara Wetmore, Mrs. William Weiska, Mrs. Scott Gast and Mrs. E. J. Steinman as hostesses. The evening was spent with games and music.

Rotary and Kiwanis To Hear Guest Speakers

Lt. Robert Mautz, son of Mrs. A. E. Mautz of 300 Lafayette street, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday noon. Lt. Mautz has just returned from Africa where he was employed as an attorney for the last 13 months for the Pan-American Airlines, Africa, Ltd. He has traveled extensively in Africa and was at Cairo when Tobruk fell. At the close of his talk he will answer questions.

The Kiwanians will have as their guest speaker Thursday noon Col. Henry D. Bale, Salvation Army worker from New Jersey. Col. Bale was born in England and became affiliated with the Salvation Army there before coming to Canada and the United States. What You Buy With WAR BONDS

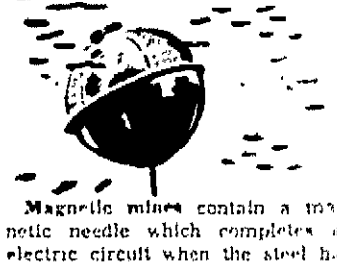
Mines, either "floating" or magnetic, are probably the most effective weapons to guard approaches to our harbors. So called "floating" mines are anchored by a steel cable and ride below the surface of the water. They must be struck by a ship to explode.



Magnetic mines contain a magnetic needle which completes an electric circuit when the steel hull of a ship approaches. Our Navy uses thousands of these mines and their cost, for that reason, runs into the thousands of dollars. But your purchase of War Bonds will help pay for these guardians of our coastal waters. INVEST AT LEAST TEN PERCENT of your income in War Bonds every payday and become a member of the patriotic Ten Percent Club.

15 Initiated at Area Meeting of Eagles

A class of 15 candidates from Marion was initiated at a meeting of Eagles lodges of District No. 15 in Marion Sunday afternoon. Members of Buckeye Aerie Lodge No. 337 were hosts and N. G. Irvin presided. Mr. Irvin also was captain of the degree staff made up of Marion lodgemen in charge of the initiation.

William Weatherald of Zanesville, a past state president, was guest speaker. An entertainment program was staged by Miss Jayne Melby and a group of her dance pupils. Ruth Mahaffey and Ethel Taylor presented "Rhumba Rhythm," and Helen Ma[illegible] gave an interpretation titled "Bill Robinson." Norma Craven gave an acrobatic dance and Ruth Mahaffey and Ethel Taylor presented a dance, "Challenge." A social hour and lunch followed the entertainment.

The district is made up of lodges in Kenton, Willard, Carey, Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus, Tiffin and Marion.

Marion Soldier Suffers Accidental Foot Wound

While cleaning a shotgun in the basement of his home, Richard Rembrandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beck of 903 Maynard drive, here on furlough from Long Beach, Calif., accidentally fired a shot into his left foot Sunday afternoon. The L. L. Axe and Son ambulance took him to City hospital where he underwent an operation for the amputation of the large toe.

A portrait painter in California before he entered the armed forces 15 months ago, he took the name of Rembrandt for his professional career. He is with the coast artillery anti-aircraft master gunners division at Long Beach. He arrived Oct. 25 for a 15-day furlough, the first visit he had made to his home for seven years.

A state factory will be established in Spain to manufacture a textile fiber from broom straw.

The Truth About Brooks Fletcher

Last week the Marion Review carried a front page, paid political advertisement, signed by French Crow, Chairman of the Marion County Republican Committee, in which false and libelous statements were made about Brooks Fletcher, Democratic candidate for Congress.

Dr. Smith Refutes French Crow

A checkup of the facts shows that statements made about Brooks Fletcher are false. Brooks Fletcher's opponent for Congress, Dr. Frederick C. Smith, in a signed statement, repudiates French Crow's statements of Brooks Fletcher in these words:

"I Wish to Refute Completely the Assertions made" (By French Crow) "In All Particulars", says Dr. Smith.

Statement False

The Marion Review accepted the advertisement by the Chairman of the Marion County Republican Executive Committee in good faith and with honest belief that, as an Attorney-at-Law, the Chairman of the Marion County Republican Committee, had verified every statement made over his own signature.

But subsequent investigation discloses that the Republican chairman had not verified his statement against Brooks Fletcher.

Long Time Resident of Marion

As everybody knows, Brooks Fletcher is a long-time resident of Marion. He served this District for ten years in Congress. He has lived in the same house at 234 Thew Avenue, Marion, for more than twenty-five years.

In his successful business and newspaper career, Brooks Fletcher has been associated with the editing and publishing of daily newspapers in three Ohio cities.

BROOKS FLETCHER

Brooks Fletcher was the successful editor and publisher of the Marion, Ohio, Daily Tribune. As editor and publisher of the Marion, Ohio Tribune, Brooks Fletcher is known to have championed every worthy cause for the good of Marion and helpful to the people of Marion County and this 8th Congressional District.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Highly Regarded

No citizens of Marion or this 8th District are more highly regarded than are Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Fletcher. That such a statement should have been made against a man of Brooks Fletcher's standing in this community and everywhere he is known, is most regrettable.

Gross Injustice To Brooks Fletcher

On reading Congressman Smith's frank assertion published in the Marion Star denouncing French Crow's false statement of Brooks Fletcher as having been made without Dr. Smith's knowledge or consent, I want here to express my deep regret that such a gross injustice was done Brooks Fletcher by the Republican committee's false statement in the Marion Review.

Distinguished Service in Congress

And as editor and publisher of the Marion Review, I earnestly plead with every reader of the Review, when voting next Tuesday, Nov. 3rd, to base his or her judgment on Brooks Fletcher's successful career as editor, publisher, business man, nationally-known platform speaker and on his distinguished service as a member of the United States Congress, rather than on the false statement published in the Marion Review over the signature of the chairman of the Marion County Republican Committee.

Signed: HUGH J. CROSSLAND, Editor and Publisher of the Review

Marion County Executive Committee, James Lauer, Chairman.

Ohio State One of Six Unbeaten Teams To Fall in Saturday Upsets

Alabama, Army, Syracuse, T. C. U. and Detroit Also Jolted from Undefeated Ranks.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—With virtually all the conference pictures more clearly defined after last week's slam-bang program, the nation's football teams moved into the final month of the campaign today, many of them with stiff assignments dead ahead.

Although the coming week-end can't hope to produce anything as exciting as the past one, when such teams as Ohio State, Alabama, Army, Syracuse, Texas Christian and Detroit were bounced out of the undefeated ranks, there still will be enough action to go around.

Leads Big Ten

In the Western conference, Wisconsin stands alone at the front of the title chase after dumping Ohio State 17-7, and the Badgers can protect that lead by taking their next three games, the first of them with Iowa next Saturday. Iowa's 13-6 triumph over Purdue was its second in three conference starts.

Ohio State has a non-conference date with Pitt this week and Purdue also steps out of the loop to play the Great Lakes Sailors, who blanked Missouri, 17-0.

After handing Illinois its first conference setback, 28-14, Michigan takes on Harvard in an intersectional duel. Illinois tangles with Northwestern and Minnesota, 19-7 conqueror of Northwestern, meets Indiana in conference play.

Army's 19-0 loss to Pennsylvania took a little of the edge off this week's tussle between the Cadets and Notre Dame at New York's Yankee stadium, but the Irish prepared for the classic by sinking Navy, 19-0. Penn and Navy get together at Philadelphia at the same time.

Boston Wins 47-0.

Boston college, which remained unbeaten and untied by swamping Georgetown, 47-0, catches Temple.

Georgia, which looms as the best in the south if not in the entire country after stopping previously unbeaten Alabama, 21-10, meets another but weaker Southwestern conference opponent, Florida. Alabama tangles with South Carolina and Maryland, 13-0 winner over Florida. Georgia Tech, still unbeaten and untied after stopping Duke, 26-7, takes on Kentucky.

With Texas Christian out of the way, Baylor and Texas collide headon with the Southwest conference lead and perhaps the title at stake. Baylor knocked T. C. U. out of the unbeaten ranks, 10-7, while Texas handled Southern Methodist, 21-7.

In the Pacific coast conference, first-place U. C. L. A. meets Oregon in quest of league victory number four.

Tulsa, unbeaten, untied and unscored on, meets Oklahoma A. and M. with the Missouri Valley championship at stake.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — This is one day when baseball players may be worrying about the draft, but aren't afraid of it. Anybody whose name comes out of the hat at Chicago will get a chance in the majors—and he'll have pretty good prospects of sticking if he is classified 3-A or 4-F in the other draft. . This unrestricted draft business, as we get it, grew out of one of Judge Landis' anti-farm rulings. The old system was for a team with a lot of farms to steer all the good prospects to one club, then as soon as one was drafted the rest were safe ...But the rule now reads that one club can't keep control of a player more than three years unless he is subject to the draft, so all the three-year men have to go into that unrestricted group or go out of the chain anyway.

Wrong Signal — Foxy Flumere, Northeastern U. football coach, hasn't complained about such difficulties as having a varsity squad that included 11 freshmen who only meet the upperclassmen when they have a game, having to play a one-armed lineman and a few other such difficulties, but he's a bit embarrassed about a happening at a recent freshman game ... Trying to give all the kids some action, Foxy saw a big fellow on the bench and hollered "Go in at right tackle." ..When the big guy didn't move, Flumere inquired how come and found he was the janitor of a nearby apartment house.

Rose Poly Halfback New College Scoring Leader

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — Eddie McGovern, Rose Poly halfback, garnered five touchdowns and five extra points Saturday as Rose drubbed Franklin, also of Indiana, and hiked his point collection for four games to 101, the best collegiate mark in the nation.

His demonstration shunted Bob Steuber of Missouri to second place among the leaders in various sections. Steuber, leader a week ago with 83 points, was kept completely in check by the Sailors of Great Lakes.

Cancel National Ski Association Meeting

By International News Service

NEW YORK—The executive committee of the National Ski Association of America has voted to cancel this year's convention of the directors. No meetings are planned for the duration.

According to an announcement yesterday by Secretary Lloyd C. Ellingson from the association's headquarters in Menomonie, Wis., a majority of the committee members felt that postponement was necessary since a great number closely connected with the N. S. A.'s activities are in the armed forces or engaged in war work.

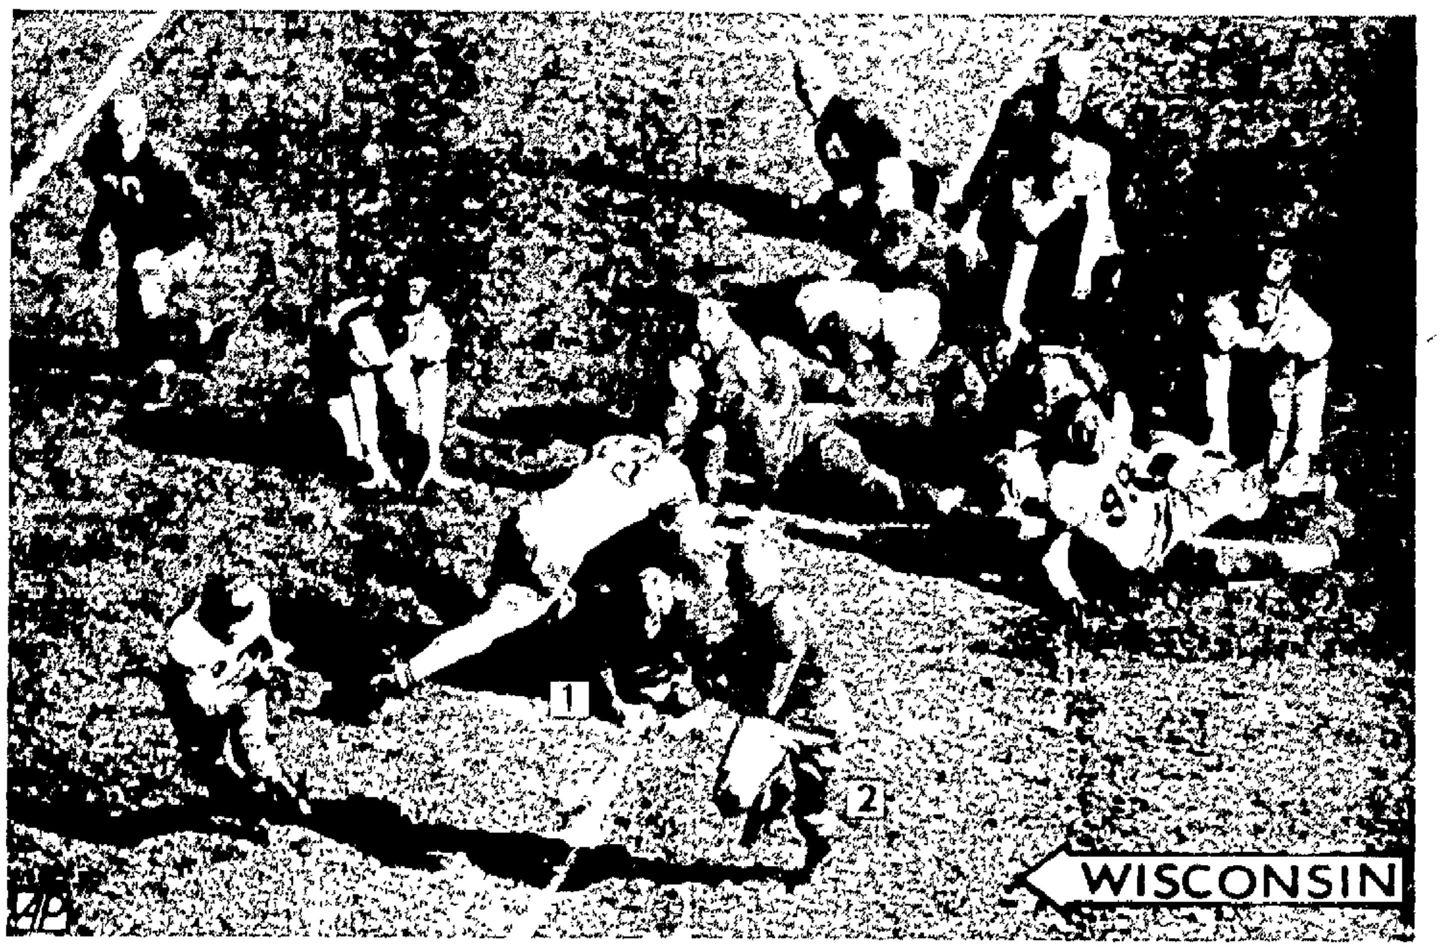
Badgers Blast Buckeye Hopes for National Title



Pat Harder (2), Wisconsin fullback, picks up speed for a Badger gain as he dashes around end after taking a short lateral from Elroy Hirsch (1) in the second quarter of the game with Ohio State at Madison, Wis. The Badgers' speed and drive carried them to a 17 to 7 victory over the previously unbeaten Buckeyes. Number 33 of Ohio State is end Dante Lavelli. Number 89 is tackle William Willis. At left is end Dave Schreiner of Wisconsin, wearing No. 80.

ISBELL'S PASSING WINS FOR PACKERS

Tosses 5 Touchdown Passes in 55-24 Win.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2—The magic wand of football, Cecil Isbell's arm, has become the most overworked weapon in the National football league, throwing the Green Bay Packers to victory and the record books out the window.

Isbell shook five touchdown passes from his sleeve yesterday as the Packers crushed the Chicago Cardinals 55 to 24. Beaten only by the Bears, the Green Bay eleven is gathering momentum for its second, and showdown meeting with the national champions Nov. 15 in Chicago.

Green Bay goes to Cleveland this Sunday while the Bears travel to Brooklyn, the Cardinals to Washington, Pittsburgh to Detroit and New York to Philadelphia.

The Washington Redskins, playing along in a two-game lead in the Eastern division, downed the Philadelphia Eagles 30 to 27.

The Cleveland Rams virtually ruined the Brooklyn Dodgers' Eastern division title chances by scooping up a 17 to 0 triumph to move into third position in the western section. George Platukas recovered a fumble and lumbered 36 yards for one touchdown. The second capped a 70 yard drive, with Parker Hall dusting end for nine yards and the marker. Chet Adams closed the scoring with a 36-yard field goal.

Rolling to their 19th consecutive win, the Bears handed the Detroit Lions their seventh straight setback, 16 to 0, in a successful debut for Co-Coaches Luke Johnsos and Hunk Anderson.

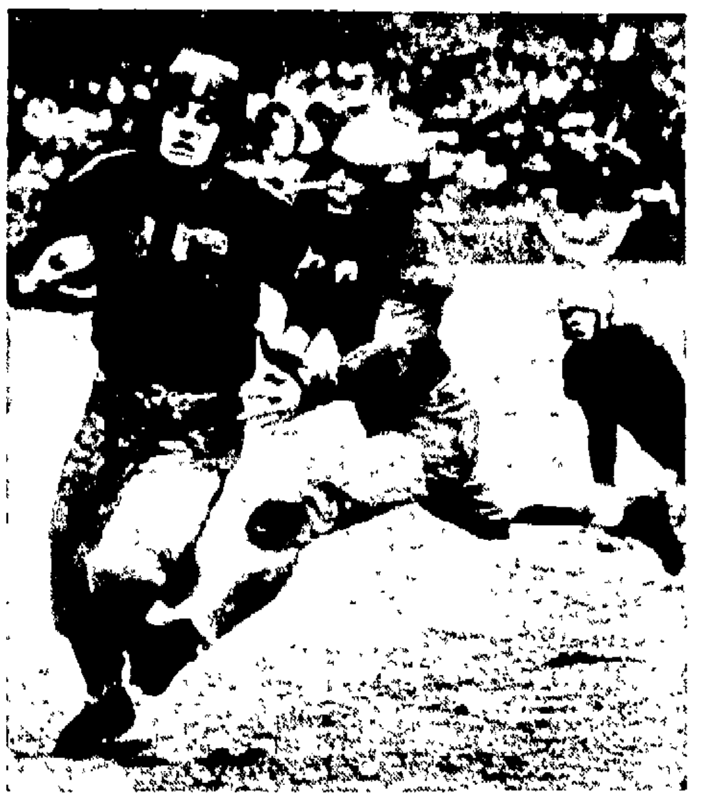
Curt Sandig of St. Mary's Texas and Bill Dudley of Virginia — a pair of rookies—darted 62 and 65 yards, respectively, to herd the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 17 to 9 victory over the New York Giants.

BEST IRISH GUARD

By International News Service

NOTRE DAME, Ind. — George Tobin, Notre Dame sophomore right guard from Arlington, Mass., rates as Notre Dame's best tackler. Fast and aggressive, he has pinned one enemy ball-carrier after another for big losses. He probably will alternate with Harry Wright, 1941 quarterback, who is now calling signals in the huddle, with Wright playing right guard on offense and Tobin on defense.

END OF THE LINE FOR STUDER



Gordon Studer (45), Navy back, comes to a sudden halt after an eight-yard gain around right end in the second period of the Navy-Notre Dame game at Cleveland. Robert Livingstone (right) is the Irish tackler. Notre Dame won, 9 to 0.

Famed Conditioner of Athletes Dies at 51

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 — Arthur A. (Artie) McGovern, who cured the world's most publicized stomach ache and became famous as a conditioner of men, is dead.

The man who restored thousands to health, including many of the well known athletes of the last two decades, died in Post-Graduate hospital yesterday at the age of 51. He suffered from a kidney ailment.

A prize fighter in his younger days, McGovern fractured a knuckle in 1910. That ended his boxing career.

He opened a gymnasium which prospered, but it wasn't until 1925 that his big break came. That was the year that Babe Ruth suffered his most disastrous season in baseball, following a stomach ailment in the spring.

In the fall, Ruth's friend and advisor, Christy Walsh, suggested that he put himself in McGovern's hands. After a winter in the McGovern gymnasium, the Babe returned to the game 40 pounds lighter and slammed 47 home runs in the 1926 season.

TO GET NEW CONTRACT

By International News Service

CHICAGO — Jimmy Gallagher, general manager of the Cubs, announced this week that Jimmy Wilson, manager, will be tendered a new contract shortly. It is not definitely known whether the Cubs will train on Catalina Island next spring, but it is believed that another training ground will be chosen because the government has taken over the island for the duration.

NEW WALKING CHAMP

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 2 — Walter Fleming, 34-year-old Detroit war worker, is the new national AAU 40-kilometer walking champion. He outstrode a field of 20 contestants, including defending champ John J. Abbate of Cincinnati, over the new Richmond-Cincinnati course, slightly under 25 miles, yesterday. His time was three hours, 46 minutes, 48.6 seconds.

KEGLERS GET LATE START

CHELAN, Wash. — Apple-picking is holding back the bowlers here. Not to be confused with cherry pickin'. This city is the center of the apple orchard territory and its pickin' time. CLEVELAND, HERSHEY UNBEATEN IN HOCKEY

Both Teams Are Winners of Three Games.

By The Associated Press

The Hershey Bears of the Eastern division and the Cleveland Barons of the Western section still are unbeaten in the American hockey league today after the first week's play in the 1942-43 season, during which every club appeared at least three times.

Hershey made it two in a row over Providence last night by beating the Reds, 3-1. The two teams also played Saturday night, with the Bears winning, 3-2.

Cleveland, which blanked the Washington Lions, 4-0 Saturday night, needed an overtime session to turn back the New Haven Eagles, 3-1, last night.

The Buffalo Bisons stopped the Pittsburgh Hornets, 6-3, last night and the Indianapolis Capitals, who dropped their opener, won their second straight by crushing Washington, 9-1, after whipping Pittsburgh, 3-1 Saturday night.

Delayed Baseball Draft Meeting Set for Today

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 — The delayed major league draft meeting will be held today in the office of Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis, but the turnout of club representatives may be slim.

With the crop of major league players pretty well taken care of by enlistments and army draft calls, few major players possibilities were considered likely and many of the clubs were expected to handle their filing or waiving of draft claims by telegraph.

The meeting was delayed this year to permit the minor clubs more time to dispose of their players on a barter basis.

LEFTIES ARE POISON

NEW YORK — During the regular American league season the Yankees were stronger against southpaws than right handers but, in the world series, they couldn't score an earned run in 13 innings against Ernie White and Max Lanier.

Ohio State-Pitt Contest Tops 23-Game Program This Week

Buckeye Teams Tackle 12 Out-of-State Teams; Wilberforce Headed for National Negr oTitle.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2—Ohio State's Bucks, slightly deflated after absorbing Saturday's 17-7 setback at Wisconsin (which cost them the state, Big Ten and national leadership) take time out from Western conference chores Saturday to meet Pittsburgh's Panthers here.

Pittsburgh defeated Carnegie Tech 13 to 6 Saturday, but [illegible] expected to be too tough for the Bucks as they clash in the headliner of a 23-game week-end program involving Ohio squads.

The Buckeye teams meet [illegible] en foes from outside the [illegible] while five of the contests are in the Ohio conference where Ohio Northern, Denison and John Carroll are tied for the lead. [illegible] Otterbein fell from the peak Saturday by losing to Denison, 6-0.

John Carroll is idle this week but Ohio Northern tackles [illegible] place Mount Union, and Denison takes on Wooster's Scots, who have won four of six—all in the league.

Other league games send Findlay to Otterbein, Baldwin Wallace to Case, and Wittenberg to Bowling Green.

Wilberforce, leader in the state's [illegible] standings meets Kentucky State college at Frankfort, Ky. The Greene county Negro university has won five straight and may be headed for the national Negro collegiate laurels.

The week-end schedule:

Friday: Capital vs Miami; Radio unit at Hamilton (night); Muskingum at Washington and Jefferson.

Saturday: Findlay at Otterbein, Mount Union at Ohio Northern, Baldwin Wallace at Case, Denison at Wooster, Wittenberg at Bowling Green (all Ohio conference contests); Ohio U. at Western Reserve, Toledo at Butler, Marshall at Xavier, Akron at Wayne, Pittsburgh at Ohio State, Miami at Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin at Allegheny, Wabash at Kenyon, Elmhurst, Ill., at Heidelberg, Kent State at Hiram, Wilberforce at Kentucky State college, Youngstown at Geneva, Cincinnati at Tennessee, Chattanooga at Dayton, Defiance at Bluffton, and Rio Grande at Marietta.

The programs are at 10:15 a. m.

AIR TROUBLE

for the American Curtiss P-40.

"The records of actual warfare have shown that American fighters and bombers in the Pacific have knocked the Zeros down 3 to 1. In many instances, the score has been higher in our favor and it must be remembered that we are just beginning, in some areas, to put our later, heavier-gunned planes into action."

Daylight raids by squads of the heaviest American bombers, the Boeing Flying Fortresses and Consolidated Liberators, operating from bases on the British Isles, Australia, and in the Middle East, have convinced our high command that these ships are the immediate answer to the second front of the air. The ability of these four-motored sluggers to deliver devastating blows, protect themselves in the clinches with enemy fighters, and return with relatively few loses, ranks among the war's most spectacular developments of 1942 from the allied viewpoint.

No longer in any section of the allied high command is there any tendency to minimize the deadly power and precision of these high-level bombers. On the contrary the best and most creative engineering minds in American industry as well as the Army air forces are concentrating on making these stratospheric sluggers bigger and tougher for 1943 when the full power of this country's man and machines begins to be wielded on the world's battle fronts.

Great Changes Coming

The Japanese have broadcast that America is building bombers which will carry 10,000 pounds of bombs a distance of 10,000 miles. Actually, in the processes of development and improvement of military aircraft, which constantly are going on in all countries at war, there is reason to believe that another year may witness the revolutionizing of all currently publicized concepts of air warfare.

The solid facts which may be summarized here and now, on the highest authority of the army air force, are that American boys are flying in actual combat, as of 1942, planes which can go faster and higher, possess heavier armored protection and greater fire power than those of any other nation, ally or enemy.

This does not mean that American army planes are superior now in all respects at all altitudes under all combat conditions. There are many variables, some blind spots, and deficiencies with which American technical skill is wrestling, wholly apart from the great problems of production and delivery in the volume needed for objectives on all major fronts. Yet the essential and reassuring fact remains—based upon play-by-play combat reports, plus the laboratory tests of our planes and the enemy's—that American aircraft can give and take heavier punishment than anything Germany, Italy or Japan thus far has produced.

Next—Other steps to increase the striking power of our aerial weapons; the broad outlines of the war in the air: from slogans to battle performance.

Five Special Issues on Hardin Co. Ballot

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Nov. 2—Five special tax levies and an especially spirited contest between Congressman Frederick C. Smith (R) and former Congressman Brooks Fletcher (D) for election in the 8th Congressional district has failed to arouse Hardin county voters from their lethargy, political leaders declared today as the campaign drew to an end.

As a result, the Hardin county elections board is expecting less than 10,000 voters at the polls Tuesday, as compared to the approximate 16,000 who voted two years ago.

Special levies, all for general operating expenses, to be approved or defeated, include: Kenton school district, three mills for five years; Alger school district, three mills for five years; Forest school district, two mills for three years; Mt. Victory corporation, three mills for two years; and Alger corporation, three mills for two years.

MARION CHILD DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Gas Fumes Blamed by Physician for Death.

Ernest LeRoy Dearth Jr., three-week-old son of E. L. and Margaret Cole Dearth of 338 Fahey street, died at their home at 2 p. m. Saturday after he had been discovered ill by his mother. A physician who was called by the parents said the cause of death was asphyxiation from the fumes of a gas stove in the room in which the child was sleeping.

When the mother went to get him for the afternoon feeding she found the child critically ill. The child died as the doctor arrived.

He was born Oct. 10 in Marion. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 at Greenwood Evangelical church with Rev. R. L. Sutherland, the pastor, in charge. Burial was in Forest Glen Memorial park.

CORN SUPPLY NOW REDUCED

Ever Normal Granary Stocks No Longer Burden as Carryover Shrinks.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 — The nation's ever-normal granary supply of corn has been cut sharply in recent months, grain trade statistics show, due to wartime demand for livestock feed and industrial corn products.

No longer is the granary surplus a market burden. Government officials call it a distinct wartime asset.

However, grain men said, as a result of the recent decline in corn prices to around low levels for the past year, with market values below what 1942 corn will be worth as collateral for government loans, trade observers predicted a substantial amount of 1942 grain will be put into the granary.

Official figures showed that the total amount of corn now in the granary either owned by the commodity credit corporation or stored under loans is about 165,000,000 bushels, compared with 332,000,000 on April 1 and 530,000,000 in April 1941 when the increased demand for livestock feeding began to be felt.

Present holdings include about 38,000,000 bushels owned by the CCC and close to 127,000,000 bushels from the 1938-39-40-41 crops stored under loans either on farms or in steel bins. On April 1 the amount under loans totaled 262,000,000 bushels, indicating producers have paid off obligations on about 135,000,000 bushels since then to be marketed or fed to livestock.

On April 1 the Commodity Credit Corp. owned about 70,000,000 bushels, indicating that the agency has disposed of 32,000,000 bushels since then, mostly to distillers for the manufacture of industrial alcohol for making of smokeless powder. Feed manufacturers also have obtained some of this corn. The government owned 231,000,000 bushels on April 1, 1941.

The statistics showed that the amount under loan on Oct. 21 included 26,300,000 bushels from the 1938 and 1939 crops, 23,650,000 from the 1940 crop and 78,710,000 produced last year.

Wartime needs are estimated to have tripled the demand for industrial alcohol but the amount of corn which can be processed for this purpose is limited by distilling capacity. Previously this capacity was estimated at about 72,000,000 bushels of grain annually, but this is being expanded.

Government owned wheat is being made available to distillers. Corn experts expect the alcohol yield from wheat is about the same. Corn refiners who make starch, syrup, sugar and oil use approximately 100,000,000 bushels annually but, because curtailed imports of tapioca and oil substitutes, processors of corn have been expanding output of various products as much as possible, although this expansion is limited since the industry previously had been operating close to capacity.

Hardin County Men Enlist for Service

KENTON, O., Nov. 2—The Hardin county selective service board today announced the names of 11 young men who have been accepted by the various armed forces of the nation. The enlistments were made within the past week, Miss Virginia Rish, selective service board clerk, said.

Fred Lewis Ankerman of Alger, Quinton Morris of Ada, enlisted in the Army; Burnell Elmo Garman of Dola, Army air corps; Walter Edward Getzinger of Kenton, Army aviation cadet, Earl Sherman Stober of Ada, Navy aviation cadet; John J. Laning, Charles Alonzo Ommert and Charles Frederick Hune of Kenton, Dari Raymond Walters of Forest, John Whittier LeVeck and Gerald Gardner Ealy of Mt. Victory, Navy.

SOLDIERS BUY U. S. WAR BONDS

Men in Iceland Making Systematic Purchases on Payroll Deduction Plan.

By International News Service

ICELAND BASE COMMAND—Approximately 30 per cent of the American troops in Iceland today are buying war bonds on a monthly pay reservation plan in order that soldiers' wages may swell the U. S. victory fund.

What's more, the average bond purchase allotment for that 30 per cent amounts to $19.17. That means that Iceland's Johnny Doughboy, when he buys bonds, buys just a little more than one $25 maturity value bond every pay period.

It means also that he can't or won't spend any great amount of kronur at this base and instead, wisely invests his money for post war use.

Others To Buy

According to the Iceland Base Command bond officer, a Chicago attorney who holds the rank of lieutenant colonel, more and more soldiers are going to follow the lead of the 30 per cent. He explained that the troop bond campaign in Iceland has been underway only five months.

"I hope to get 75 per cent of the command buying bonds and buying lots of them," he said. "I'm interested in getting the troops to do their saving systematically—by regular monthly pay reservations and not merely hit and miss purchases."

He added that army post offices are currently doing a money order business approximately two and a half times the monthly volume of regular bond purchases—another indication that Iceland's soldiers have money and not much to spend it for on the spot.

A soldier can allot as little as $1.25 a month to buy war bonds. This amount is held by the army finance officer until, at the end of 15 months, the savings totals $18.75 or enough to get a $25 maturity value bond.

The money is then turned over to the treasury department and the bond is sent to the soldier's dependents. Or if he wishes, it is kept in safekeeping by the treasury and a receipt is sent to him or his family. The bonds themselves can not be sent out of the United States.

Minimum Basis

The minimum monthly reservation for officers is $3.25, for civilian government employes $5.

At a recent tabulation, 22 of Iceland's units, ranging from small medical detachments to a full battalion, had enrolled 100 per cent of their men for bond subscriptions.

In addition to the pay reservation program, the bond office here is assisting soldiers in making bond purchases by money order and check—another way by which the troops are investing their surplus cash in America's war efforts.

There is still another army saving plan to aid soldiers who want to keep the money they earn from Uncle Sam safely until the war is over.

Any enlisted man can deposit funds with the finance officer and receive 4 per cent annual interest. However, as soon as he leaves the army, he must take his savings in cash.

Plenty of Iceland's troops are taking advantage of this system too. All in all, Johnny Doughboy, whether he's a private or a master sergeant, expects to have a nest egg for his postwar activities.

Cotton Fabrics Used in Arctic Garments

By International News Service

WASHINGTON—Cotton fabrics are now being used in army field jackets, parka, and parka-type overcoats issued to troops on duty in frigid theaters of operations, the war department announces.

Laboratory and field experimentation, based to a large extent on the experiences of Arctic explorers, has been conducted by the army quartermaster corps and the results have indicated that cotton, as well as fur, wool and leather, is an essential material for use in cold-weather clothing.

One of the most efficient Arctic garbs is a combination of a wind-resistant material and an insulator to preserve body heat, the research indicates. Cotton twill fabrics, made of a combined yarn, have proven effective as body insulators and types of cotton twill have demonstrated a high degree of wind-and-weather repellency when suitably treated in manufacture. When worn with additional heat-holding garments, the jackets and parkas fabricated of cotton have provided excellent protection against extreme cold.

WHEAT AND RYE PUSH PRICES UP

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 — A pre-election holiday buying movement today lifted wheat and rye prices about a cent a bushel, with other grains following on the upturn.

Buying was not large, coming mostly from professional dealers covering previous short sales, but it had material price effect in view of the meager selling orders at times. Traders expressed belief routine flour business probably accounted for some of the strength and they pointed out free wheat offerings were limited by government purchases in the northwest and the more attractive loan rates.

MARKET GAINS ON WAR NEWS

More Encouraging Outlook from Solomons Swings Stocks Forward.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—The more encouraging war news, especially from the Solomons, helped today's stock market in the continuance of the forward swing.

Selected carrier bonds again tilted forward. Commodities were relatively steady.

Among stocks getting into new high ground for the year were Crucible Steel, Consolidated Edison, [illegible], [illegible], Bethlehem, American Telephone, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Standard Oil (N. J.), American Can, Westinghouse, Youngstown Sheet and Republic Steel.

Steels still had the benefit of prospects that third quarter earnings might be pleasingly surprising notwithstanding heavy cost and tax demands.

Strength of a number of utility stocks of late was apparently based on a revival of political hopes and the more lenient treatment of operating companies under the new tax law.

Forlorn Spot

By The Associated Press

PAPEETE, Tahiti — Punaauia, the colony of American villas where many wealthy or adventurous visitors sought a touch of South Sea life, has become a virtual ghost town. A gradual drift back to the continent became a rush in the threatening days just before Pearl Harbor. Neglected, the frame houses are rapidly deteriorating in the moist tropical climate.

HEAVY LIVESTOCK MARKETING AHEAD

Packers Preparing for Rush in Next Two Months.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 —With the last two months of the year starting, meat processors here are preparing to handle an enormous quantity of livestock, which, it is felt in some quarters, may place a strain on both transportation and slaughtering facilities.

It had been hoped that producers would move their hogs which will constitute a major part of the run, to markets early, thus easing the possible strain. But shipments did not pick up materially in October, evidently because it has become more profitable to feed hogs to heavier weights.

November, December and January are always heavy marketing months. It is possible that farmers will hold back their hogs longer than usual, shipping larger quantities in February, March and April of next year.

In order to relieve any financial burden Armour and Company (Illinois), one of the largest packers, has arranged for a revolving credit of $50,000,000 from 20 of the nation's largest banks. Armour explained its working capital was sufficient for normal supplies, but safeguards against this year's large run were considered desirable.

Fundamental in its influence upon future marketing is the power which Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has been given to control the disposition and marketing of livestock.

These powers enable the secretary, if he desires, to set up a permit system under which producers could market their hogs only at a specific time for which a permit has been obtained from, either first, commission firms operating at public stockyards, or, two, from marketing committees functioning in the areas of production.

Grow Own Coffee, Tea To Beat Rationing

By International News Service

LANGLEY, B. C.—Wartime rationing holds no inconvenience for Mr. and Mrs. A. Buckley of Langley, B. C.

They grow their own tea and coffee.

The coffee comes from chicory, home grown and home cured—with a dash of real coffee for aroma, if company comes.

Tea is produced from wild Labrador tea leaves that grow in profusion in the marsh areas.

"When you once acquire the taste for Laborador tea it is refreshing and satisfying," said Mrs. Buckley. "My husband likes it with a drop or two of lemon. I am too English, so add a pinch of real tea just to color the brew."

The Buckleys also grow 15 varieties of soybeans. "Black ones," she explained, "go into explosives, brown to cattle feed. Milk and cheese and bread can be made from one, the Kibotts variety."

REASON FOR MUTTON

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—Here's why mutton appears so often on the menu of American soldiers serving in Australia. This continent has 112,000,000 sheep—16 for every person, and twice as many as the United States. Before the war most of Australia's lamb and mutton was exported to England, but shipping restrictions have flooded the home market.

Jaundice in War Forces

The report of the surgeon general on the epidemic of jaundice which affected personnel of the armed forces from January to June, 1942, is now at hand. Although I have had numerous inquiries, I have deferred discussing it until accurate information was available. The surgeon general's report is authoritative, complete and frank, but it is evident that the cause and nature of the epidemic is more or less of a mystery.

The cause of the epidemic was ascribed to the use of yellow fever vaccine; or to be exact, of certain lots of yellow fever vaccine. All large outbreaks were associated with the administration of these lots of vaccine. It could be predicted, after the association was known, that troops at far distant stations who had been inoculated with these lots would come down with jaundice in a proportion of cases.

But what there was in the vaccine that caused it is unknown. All army, navy and public health forces were for a time vaccinated with serum made the same way and no case of jaundice resulted. The serum has been subjected to a change in process of manufacturing and extensively tested, so that all safeguards for further vaccinations have been made. Only troops destined for points where there is danger of yellow fever will be vaccinated, at least for a time.

It should be emphasized that vaccination against yellow fever is a recognized method of preventing a disease which would be far more dangerous than the jaundice of this epidemic.

Jaundice is due to a variety of things, one being a destruction of liver cells, and since yellow fever derives its name from a jaundice of that sort it was naturally suggested at first that these were actually cases of yellow fever. But careful microscopic examination of liver tissue made in autopsies of the few rare cases of death showed a liver destruction that was not at all like that of yellow fever. The official circular states very emphatically that these jaundice cases were not cases of yellow fever.

Nor were they cases of ordinary catarrhal jaundice, sometimes called Weil's disease.

They were quite apparently due to some substance that caused a destruction of liver cells. The liver fortunately regenerates very rapidly and this undoubtedly is what happened in the cases that recovered.

I am sure a report emanating from such high sources would not have spared anyone if there had been any evidence of carelessness or avoidable bad technique in the preparation of the vaccine. It would seem to be simply an instance of extreme misfortune in carrying out a necessary measure.

It has given the anti-vaccination cranks an opportunity to howl, but the soberer reflections of the community will not allow our soldiers and sailors to go to countries where they will be exposed to yellow fever unprotected, when a tested preventive is at hand.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. K.:—What foods are to be avoided in hay fever?

Answer: Hay fever victims find that during the season they get sensitized to foods that do not affect them at all the rest of the year. Every victim must find out for himself the food that affects him, because they are different for each.

"Perhaps unthinkable, but not improbable," my father said dryly.

Mr. Milner bowed.

"Yes, that is true," he said, and Philip Verdeen broke in impatiently.

"Well, why this delay? Are you going to give those orders for closing the grill room and kitchen, and rounding up the employes, or must I telephone them myself?"

My father saved Milner the necessity of answering immediately.

"Those orders must not be telephoned," he said firmly. "They must be given in person."
